Council Fills 2 Vacancies For Chester

Gibbs Named 3rd Ward, Stackhouse For 4th Ward Post

Roy Gibbs, envelope firm foreman, and Eugene Stackhouse, former manager of the West Virginia Liquor Store in Chester, were appointed Chester councilmen Wednesday night to fill two vacancies.

Gibbs, 50, of 5th St. was named by Council to the Third Ward post from which Donald Hissam resigned last month, and Stackhouse, 59, of California Ave. was appointed to the Fourth Ward seat from which Harry Davis resigned.

Hissam and Davis gave up the offices when it was learned a property-holding qualification is required of councilmen. Hissam won the Republican nomination for re-election, but Davis was defeated by Wayne Hutton in the GOP primary Tuesday.

Gibbs, maintenance and production foreman at the National Church Supply Co. and honorary member of the fire department, and Stackhouse, night watchman at the American Legion, are both Republicans.

Applications were also received from Frank Decapio and Elmer Robinson, Democratic nominees for the Third and Fourth Council seats.

Appointment of Gibbs and Stackhouse was approved unanimously by Councilmen Charles Kology, Cyril Govey and Willis Bishop. The two were sworn in by City Clerk Roy Cashdollar.

In other business, Council authorized payment of telephone bills for home phones of the police and water works superintendent because the City Hall offices are closed at times.

Council cited the inability to

Vandals Overturn 50 Markers In Cemetery

EAST PALESTINE — Police today pressed investigation of vandalism in which some 50 grave markers were damaged and one overturned at the War Memorial Cemetery on S. Walnut St., unused burial site where Revolutionary and Civil War soldiers rest.

The vandalism was discovered yesterday, and police believe youths are responsible. Fifty markers were upset and many of these damaged, officers said.

The markers represent about two-thirds of the total in the site which the city and patriotic groups began to restore and maintain last year.

Will Begin At 7:30

Bee Friday Night At Beaver Local

Thirty - two champions from both the public and parochial school systems are awaiting the opening round of the annual countywide spelling bee Friday night.

The contest will get under way at 7:30 on the stage in the gymnasium of Beaver Local High School.

A county champion will be decided, but the last five youngsters remaining in the bee automatically will advance to the regional event April 27 at Timken Vocational High School in Canton.

County School System — Ellen Carter, Fairfield; Cheryl Bartholow, Fairfield; Cahty Jones, Beaver Local; Donna Sargent, Fairfield; Priscilla Crist, Highlandtown; Karen Keck, Fairfield; Janice Sturgell, United, and Loretta Csontos, Fairfield.

Parochial Schools — Thomas Bica, Salem St. Paul's, and Linda McDevitt, East Liverpool St. Aloysius.

Columbiana — Kathy Curl and Karen Orr.

The Rev. William L. Brown of the Lisbon First Methodist Church will be the pronouncer. The judges will be Carl Pelini, an assistant principal at Westgate School, East Liverpool; Atty. Bryce Kendall of Salem, and Jack Kuhlman, senior English teacher at Beaver Local and solicitor for the village of Columbiana.

Each of the five youngsters who advance to the regional bee at Canton will be presented a trophy, furnished by The Review and The Salem News, co-sponsors of the bee.

$105,735 Grant Cleared On Chester Sewage Plant

Chester city officials today prepared to move ahead with plans for a proposed sewage disposal system after receiveing official notice that a $105,735 fdeeral grant has been approved for the project.

Next major step in the $420,000 program will be formal acceptance of the grant offer and planning for a bond issue of about $315,000 to complete financing.

A letter from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare concerning the grant offer was read to Council at its meeting Wednesday night.

Dr. George Moore of the HEW office at Charlottesville, Va., wrote that the offer is being forwarded through the West Virginia Division of Water Resources.

Mayor Ray Collins said today he plans to call a meeting of the Sanitary Board and representatives of the A. R. Todd Associates of Wheeling, engineers. The mayor said the meeting will probably be held early next week.

According to previous notices, the city should act to provide construction bids within 90 days after actually getting the grant. However, it has been indicated that an extension of the time period can be obtained if warranted.

Officials said Council has the authority to approve the issue of self - liquidating bonds to finance the work.

The construction work, according to federal requirements, is to be completed within a year after contracts are awarded, but again, there is possibility of extension of the time limits.

According to recent survey by Todd, the project would cost about $204,600 for the plant, $134,300 for the interceptor system, and $106,000 for pipes, manholes and street work.

County Lists $49,814 Fund As Carryover

Distribution Made To Various Offices By Commissioners

LISBON — Distribution of a $49,814 fund carryover unanticipated from last year has been made by county commissioners to various county departments.

Although the original carryover of funds from 1961 had been estimated at about $10,000—causing commissioners to order a 15 per cent cut in governmental appropriations—the actual fund carryover amounted to $49,814.

Apportionment of the funds, providing increases for department allotments for the most part, follows, with the 1961 expenditures in parenthesis for comparison:

Commissioners, $35,000 ($38,336); photostat-microfilm, $13,800 (nothing appropriated in 1961); County Auditor, $66,034 ($72,040); County Treasurer, $46,524 ($50,875); Prosecutting Attorney, $27,100 ($25,614).

Court of Appeals, $600 ($600); Common Pleas Court, $78,740 ($74,923); Juvenile Court, $22,240 ($22,620); Probate Court, $47,750 ($52,699); Clerk of Courts, $48,099 ($55,699).

Coroner, $8,275 ($8,250); county courts, $41,715 ($41,714); Municipal Court, $7,460 ($7,391); Board of Elections, $105,020 ($93,197); Courthouse and Jail, $65,000 ($61,285); sheriff $101,209 ($102,581); recorder, $37,951 ($40,184); humane officer, $720 ($720).

Agriculture, $30,655 ($34,411); County Home, $102,292 ($115,722), and soldiers relief, $106,345 ($100,835).

Commissioners said they gave the Common Pleas Court, Board of Elections and Soldiers Relief amounts requested since the funds are set by law.

The general fund has been set at $1,119,045 as a result of the revised carryover funds. Total appropriations for the year are $3,639,699.

The general fund revenue has been estimated at $441,830 from property tax, $59,814 unencumbered balance, and $617,401 from other sources.

Appropriations allotted apart from the general fund are assigned for certain purposes and cannot be otherwise utilized, it was explained.

6 Persons Shaken But Uninjured In Shippingport Blast

By EARL RANKIN

A shattering explosion at a Shippingport strip mine late Wednesday night rocked homes within a 10-mile radius, broke windows, damaged several cars and created a general alarm that summoned fire departments and ambulances from nearby communities.

Miraculously, no one was hurt although half a dozen persons went to hospitals for examination.

Authorities at first thought the explosion had occurred at the Shippingport atomic power plant in the vicinity of the mine.

A woman was knocked from her bed, a driver was shaken when debris landed on his passing car and the interior of a small home in the area was damaged.

A brilliant flash preceded the blast, which echoed up and down the valley and was reportedly heard 20 miles away. Windows in Midland stores were shattered, plaster fell as homes were shaken to their foundations and cabinets were knocked from walls by the terrific concussion.

Fire trucks, ambulances and autos of firemen and spectators lined Route 168 for a half a mile in the vicinity shortly after the shuddering blast, which apparently occurred with a building at the mine, operated by the Courtney Coal Co.

Only a hole remained where a scale house and shed had stood. Tree branches, twisted metal and other debris littered the highway.

David Shamp, 58, and his nephew, Leroy Shamp, 32, both of whom reside nearby, saw the flash about 10:30 and then went over to the scene. Both work for the coal firm, owned by Jack Courtney of Beaver.

Sandy DeBacco, 23, of West Aliquippa was riding by. The top of his car was bashed, the trunk lid broken open and windows shattered. He said the force of the explosion stopped his car. He complained of chest and shoulder

AT BLAST SCENE. Spectators stare into the hole left by a shattering blast at the Courtney Coal Mine Co. at Shippingport Wednesday night as the damaged loading tipple much of its steel sheeting ripped away, forms a background of the scene of damage. A storage shed and scale house stood at the spot but were entirely destroyed. Also damaged extensively was the interior of the home of Leroy Shamp, who resides on the highway below the mine. A light bulb was not broken but all windows of the home were shattered. The mine is on a hilltop almost opposite the entrance to the Shippingport atomic power plant.

Thief 'Milks' Coin Devices, Obtains $105

Coin-changing machines in two East End automatic laundries were "milked" of $105 in dimes overnight, police reported today.

A mechanically-inclined thief, apparently using some sort of device that tripped the mechanism of the machines, obtained $50 in a laundry at Pennsylvania Ave. and Elizabeth St. and $55 in another at Pennsylvania Ave. and State St., officers said.

Both laundries operate under the trade name Econ-O-Wash. The business at Elizabeth St. is operated by Paul Conkle Jr. of Chester and the enterprise at State St. is operated by Joe Clement of Clement Way, officers said.

In both cases, the thefts were discovered this morning when the proprietors opened the machines to insert more dimes, officers said. But the thievery may have taken place yesterday afternoon, police said. Patrolman William A. Devon investigated.

Walker Says Rusk Link To Mysterious Apparatus

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edwin A. Walker, former Army major general, testified today that he regards Secretary of State Dean Rusk as a link with a mysterious secret apparatus bent on a "sellout" of this country.

Walker also named Walt Whitman Rostow, a top State Department planner, as influential in a secret "control apparatus" which the ex-general said always followed "the soft line on communism."

Walker named these two in response to questions by Sen. E. L. Bartlett, D-Alaska.

Bartlett was pursuing details on Walker's general charge Wednesday that shadowy forces hand in hand with communism are eating at the American way of life.

The tall Texan, who resigned from the Army after having been admonished on charges he tried to sway the voting of his troops in the 1960 congressional elections, blamed most of his troubles on civilians.

Contract Let To Plan Link In Lake Road

The State Highway Department at Columbus announced today it has awarded a contract to a Youngstown engineering firm to draw construction plans for an 11-mile stretch of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway from a point near Columbiana to a spot near Canfield.

The contract was given the consulting firm of Glaus, Pyle & Schomer, which is expected to complete the design work by Feb. 15, 1963, the Highway Department said.

Plans call for a four-lane limited access facility, with necessary interchanges and railroad separation, running north between

Injury In Fall Takes Widow

Mrs. Myrtle Morley, 1071 St. George St., who apparently laid helpless for several days on the kitchen floor at her home following a fall, died at 12:45 a. m. today at City Hospital, about 12 hours after she had been admitted.

Mrs. Morley was found unconscious in her locked home at 12:34 p. m. Wednesday by Patrolman Charles A. Winters, who was investigating a report from a neighbor that Mrs. Morley had not been seen for five days.

Mrs. Addie Gibbons, 1073 St. George St., told police Mrs. Morley had not been seen but that someone could be heard breathing irregularly in the house.

Officer Winters said he found Mrs. Morley lying on the kitchen floor in a coma. She apparently had fallen, striking her head on a cabinet, he reported. Patrolman Winters summoned an ambulance to remove Mrs. Morley to the hospital.

She was born in West Virginia to the late Albert Brady King and Margaret N. Spence King. She lived here 45 years. At one time she worked as a brusher at a local pottery. She retired about 20 years ago.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Andrew Nagy

A Requiem High Mass will be sung for Andrew Michael Nagy, 130 Midland Ave., Midland, Saturday at 10 a. m. at the Midland Presentation Catholic Church. Fr. Francis E. Paul will officiate. Burial will be in the Oak Grove Cemetery in Industry. He died Wednesday at City Hospital.

Mr. Nagy was born Feb. 26, 1913, in Homestead. He was employed as a millwright in the axle mill of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. He was a member of the Presentation church.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Theresa Nagy at home; a daughter, Mrs. Rose Marie Diaz of Midland; two brothers, John Nagy and Mike Nagy, both of Pittsburgh; four sisters, Mrs. Betty Munroe, Mrs. Ann Winslow, Mrs. Helen Sninsky, and Mrs. Mary Aufderheide, all of Pittsburgh, and two grandchildren.

Mrs. George McGee

Mrs. Mary Margaret McGee, 433 Midland Ave., wife of George McGee, died this morning at 2 at the City Hospital following a brief illness. She was 47.

Mrs. McGee was born in Butler Dec. 26, 1914.

In addition to her husband, she leaves two sons, Charles McGee at home and George McGee of Ohio View; two daughters, Miss Madeline McGee and Miss Lorraine McGee, both at home; a brother, George Majestic of Industry; three sisters, Mrs. Sam Laughlin of Georgetown, Mrs. Catherine Markovich of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Rose Flara of Midland, and two grandchildren.

The Schwerha Funeral Home in Midland is arranging services.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight.

Mrs. Mary Daniels

Services for Mrs. Mary Jane (Mollie) Daniels, who died Monday night at the Craker Rest Home in Hopedale, will be held this afternoon at 2 at the Hargrave Funeral Home in Adena. Burial will be in Mt. Olive Cemetery in Harrisville.

A former resident of Adena, Mrs. Daniels was the daughter of Jacob Ankrom and Elizabeth Bell Ankrom. Her husband, Charles Daniels, died in 1956.

She leaves two daughters, including Mrs. Paul Haught of East Liverpool, a son, a sister, and a grandchild.

Funeral To Be Saturday

Dr. Robert Schilling, 84, Area's Historian, Taken

Dr. Robert Wilson Schilling, 84, Jefferson County health commissioner and a practicing physician for more than half a century, died Wednesday morning in the Ohio Valley Hospital in Steubenville, where he was a patient for three weeks.

Dr. Schilling, who resided at New Somerset, Toronto R. D. 1, became county health commissioner Sept. 1, 1953.

Previously, he had practiced for 52 years in three counties and five townships, as a country doctor. He delivered more than 1,600 babies.

He was among the oldest active practicing physicians in point of service in Ohio.

He began practice at Knoxville, near Toronto, early in 1901 and his work often took him into Carroll and Columbiana Counties.

Dr. Schilling considered Yellow Creek rich in historic lore and wrote his first book, "Tales of Yellow Creek," which was published in 1942. His second book was "The Yellow Creek Stories." Two copies of each book are on file in the Library of Congress in Washington.

Dr. Schilling was born April 1, 1878, in Jewett. He attended Ohio State University, graduating in 1901, and the Ohio Medical College. He became interested in medicine when he was a high school student and worked as a clerk in Dr. William England's drugstore in Jewett.

He moved to Jefferson County April 15, 1901, settling in Knoxville. He was married to the former Emma Boyd in 1905.

In addition to his widow, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Helen Louise Grimes of New Somerset and three grandchildren. A son preceded him in death.

The Rev. Forest Hall, pastor of the New Somerset Methodist Church, will officiate.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery at Jewett.

William Timmons

William L. Timmons, 90, of Alliance, a former resident of East Liverpool, died this morning at 7 at his home after an illness of several months.

He was born in Upper Strasburg, Pa., Aug. 8, 1871, to David B. Timmons and Mary Gabler Timmons. He was a retired farmer.

He is survived by a son, William S. Timmons of Alliance, and two brothers, Dent Timmons of Orrstown, Pa., and Frank Timmons of Chambersburg, Pa. His wife, the former Elizabeth Stevenson, died in March of 1955.

Services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the Cassaday-Turkle Funeral Home in Alliance by Mrs. Letha Andrews of the Four Square Gospel Temple at Uhrichsville. Burial will be in Fairmount Memorial Park in Alliance.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Mrs. Caroline Trotter

Mrs. Caroline Trotter, 92, widow of Elisha L. Trotter, died Wednesday at 10:45 p. m. at the Betty June's Nursing Home in Wellsville, where she had been a patient for a month.

She was born on a farm near Calcutta Dec. 12, 1869, to William S. Moore and Mary M. Nickle Moore, and resided in this area her lifetime. She was a member of the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church. Her husband died in February 1945.

She leaves another daughter, Mrs. Leonard (Mayme) Townley of Lisbon; two sons, Frank Trotter and James Trotter, both of East Liverpool, and four grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. Robert K. Fogal. Burial will be in the Longs Run church cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday afternoon and evening.

Miss Kathleen Saling

Services for Miss Kathleen Saling, a former resident of East Liverpool, will be held Friday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Aloysius Catholic Church. Burial will be in St. Aloysius Cemetery.

Both laundries have other coin-changing machines that were not tampered with, police said. The business on Elizabeth St. has a device that changes quarters and dimes and the one on State St. has a machine that changes 25-cent pieces.

Neither of the 50-cent machines had been tampered with forcibly, leading to the theory that some device was used to extract the coins.

Between them, the two laundries have been victims of minor thefts and vandalism several dozen times in the last few years. They are particularly subject to petty thievery and property damage because they operate around the clock virtually unattended, officers pointed out.

Legion At Newell To Erect Plaque

Plans to erect a plaque at Memorial Field honoring servicemen who lost their lives in the Korean fighting were outlined at a meeting Wednesday night of American Legion Post 114.

The post voted to sponsor several boys to a youth conservation camp June 8-9 at Tomlinson Run Park after hearing a report on the camp from Leroy Riddle, child welfare officer.

The topics will include Civil Defense and a study of birds.

The King - for - a - Day project has been completed on the post level and a child selected to attend the affair in Charleston.

A service officers' school will be held April 27-29 at Jacksons Mill.

A rehabilitation and service officers' report was given by Dewayne Staley. Arthur DeLong, commander, presided.

The executive committee will meet Wednesday at 7 p. m. to discuss maintenance problems. The regular meeting will be April 18.

Operation Failure, Doctor Died

When Britain's National Health Service was 10 years old in 1958, the medical weekly Lancet commented:

"For our part we think the National Health Service one of the biggest improvements in the life of this country since the war. Thanks to hard and intelligent work by a great many people, professional and lay, it has done much to better the conditions of medical care, and it has been an immense comfort to the public."

What had happened was that a nation whose medical care never had been available to people lacking financial means to pay for it was getting something it never had enjoyed before. National Health Service was a popular success.

BUT NOW comes a long-term effect that is upsetting all earlier appraisals of the service's popular success. Britain is losing doctors.

The current issue of the British Medical Journal reports it lost 749 to the United States from 1956 to 1960. In the same period it lost 1,071 to Canada, 1,060 to Australia, 202 to South Africa, 184 to New Zealand and others to Souther Rhodesia and Northern Rhodesia.

What went wrong? Why are British doctors leaving home in such numbers that one estimate puts as many as half of all internships and residencies in Britain in possession of some 4,000 non-British doctors, most of them from India and Pakistan?

Is anything in sight to halt this outward-bound trend of young British doctors? What is affecting their attitude?

The explanation lies in this quotation from a high-ranking National Health Service official, as published in United States & World Report:

"IF WE HAD a chance to di it again, I think that we would favor some form of compulsory medical insurance, supplemented by tax funds together with subsidies to hospitals to keep down costs. We would also act to limit the cost of drugs. In short, the state would insure that everyone had access to medical care at a reasonable cost, but without nationalizing the entire system and putting all doctors on the government payroll."

Too late, the socialists in Britain have discovered what socialists never see when they draw their blueprints to make over the world to their own specifications—that human nature never follows blueprints but consults its own variable moods.

Men as individuals have no interest in making the collectionizers look like geniuses, not even in the Soviet Union.

The Problem Is Louisiana

A district federal court order to integrate the first six grades of public school in New Orleans next fall follows by a few days strong evidence that Catholic parochial schools in the city are going to be integrated on pain of excommunication for church members who resist.

Does this mean there finally will be something more than token integration in New Orleans—a dozen Negroes attending half a dozen New Orleans schools?

Have the federal court and the Catholic Church found a way to force actual integration in the most urbane city of the Deep South?

The answer is not an automatic yes, though the combination of bench and pulpit is formidable. The complication is that New Orleans cannot control the outcome of the issue. It is dominated by the state in which it is situated.

The problem is Louisiana.

New Orleans is one of the great cities of the Western World — cosmopolitan, cultured, jealous of its reputation as one of civilization's showplaces. As such, it has nothing in common with the kind of Louisiana politician whose stock in trade is racial discrimination.

The metropols is the prisoner of the boondocks and the kind of politics that goes over best in the boondocks. This is shameful and embarrassing to the sophisticated residents of New Orleans. They, too, have prejudices but they have the restraint to govern their prejudices. They are jealous of their city's good name.

The integration problem will be with them in acute form next year. Louisiana politicians will make certain of that. Once more there will be riots staged for television, imported goons to make certain nothing is done without violence, orators brought in from the back country to stir up hatred and arm-waving politicos shilling for white supremacy votes. It will be another Little Rock for race-baiters—and don't be surprised if agitators from neighboring Arkansas show up.

Yes, It Could Have Been Liz

Newspapers frequently are the target of those who live and thrive on public acclaim but would like to keep their personal lives a deep, dark secret.

Charges of gossiping and rumor-mongering are leveled at the press, radio and television. Readers and listeners are led to believe the things they read and hear are irresponsible, with no basis in fact.

On Friday, March 30, in a New York press interview, Eddie made this statement about rumors that his three-year marriage with Liz was on the rocks:

"The rumors are preposterous, ridiculous and absolutely false. The only romance between Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton is Marc Antony and Cleopatra, and I might say a mighty good one." (They are co-starred in the movie "Cleopatra.")

Three days later, on Monday, April 2, a New York attorney was authorized to make this announcement:

"Elizabeth and Eddie Fisher announce that they have mutually agreed to part. Divorce proceedings will be instituted soon."

Who changed Eddie's mind? Could it have been Liz?

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Broadway show can now be seen in out-of-town theaters in complete coordination with stage performance, through TV "Gideon" was projected to Rochester, N. Y., Theater, with promoters predicting so many cities will be reached this way ultimately that Broadway play can take in a million dollars a week. In case of a first-night performance this can make authors, actors and producers wealthy while they are still studying the reviews.

We may hear an actor boast, "Mine is a theatrical family. I was born a few minutes before my parents went on stage in New York, Pittsburgh, Sioux City, Minneapolis, Syracuse and Hartford."

Strangest lines in a play delivered on a Broadway stage some day may be "It's so good to be alone," "We're being watched and must keep this top secret" and "Won't you sit down, coast to coast?"

Box office might bring in so much money theater would be put in class with race tracks, with government demanding big cut to solve debt problem, stop recessions and save Laos, South America and Africa through musicals like "Oklahoma" and "South Pacific."

Shakespeare should have said "All the world's a stage and the people merely people no farther away than corner delicatessen."

Think of it! A play addict in Chillicothe may some day attend a Broadway show without getting more than two blocks from his home! A fellow in Cleveland may not cause a call for a psychiatrist when he says to his wife "Call a taxi; I'm taking you to a New York first-night."

People will be able to see not only performance but see first nighters close up (is that good?), and observe critics arrive late and leave early in their own production of "How To Like a Show Without Revealing It By Facial Expression."

How will this broad coverage affect actors vanities? We can imagine a performer in a long run show complaining "I know I am okay on Broadway, but how am I doing in Pawtucket, Wilmington and Cedar Rapids?"

Fellow who lives pretty far from New York but has been getting to see the big shows for many years says he doesn't like idea. "I love the theater but am used to getting it the hard way," he says. "I can't stand seeing a Broadway hit without long distance travel, fatigue, and arguments with box office, attendants, doormen and ushers. Who wants to bother seeing a Broadway production when not close to a state of exhaustion?"

PAPERBACK BIBLE is now on sale, and its pretty wonderful, in its inclusion of striking photographs of the Holy Land. But Bible with a paper cover would not have lasted long in the old days, when "Good book" was a part of most every Christian home, read over and over, again and again in all moments of stress, doubt, trouble and need for guidance.

The Bible had to have an extra stout cover, so it could stand all the handling and be handed down from one generation to another, full of thumbmarks, underscored passages and proof that it was the book of books.

Still, we are wishing well to the paperback edition. It will attract the young through modernity of approach, appeal to adults as a good "spare" and perhaps find a way into many homes where Holy Writ hasn't been easily available.

The famous explorer and navigator, Christopher Columbus, knew less about navigation than today's average sailor in "boot" training. He accomplished his famous voyage of discovery on a basis of "dead reckoning."

An automobile advertisement by the Haynes-Anderson people in 1901 stated that their car was of the kind that could be driven in the rain, and on muddy streets, as well as on dry ones.

The exact distance from the earth to the sun is still unknown. Despite the most painstaking calculations and efforts by astronomers, this distance is still uncertain by about 10,000 miles.

Local Unions Snag Missile Work

By Victor Riesel

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. Over at the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., they have just old me we're really a long broad jump from Mars. We'll make it soon, I reckon, especially if we can solve some problems which will make it easier to protect ourselves from another red - tinted area right here on earth.

Victor Riesel

As part of the insurance that no earth-bound "Red" moves against us or any friend in inner space, the Pentagon has been building a "complex" of Titan II sites near here. There are 18 such sites down the road—each has a small complex of silos.

Into each will be carefully put a war-headed rocket which can make Leningrad or Moscow if that ghastly moment ever comes. But before you finish a silo you must line it with acoustical cages. These are made up of spun glass which fits into the silo.

During the first week in March the contractors were ready to put the finishing touches on one site. The spun glass was ready.

So were the ventilating ducts on the launching equipment of the Titan II missiles. So was the vital machinery. But the men were not.

ON MARCH 4, to be exact, they reported for work. They found pickets in front of each site. The men were men of skills. But they were not to use them that day nor the next. They would not cross the picket line strung up by a local union of sheet metal workers — despite a no-strike pledge.

Some 1300 men went home. Thus almost 2,600 man days were lost — along with tempers, money, and vital time. Why?

That's what an angered Sen. McClellan wanted to know. He has a bill ready which would ban all strikes on missile sites. He was momentarily persuaded not to push it until he met with White House spokesmen, Pentagon leaders, generals, space program officials, Arthur Goldberg and Vice President Johnson early in April.

Meanwhile, McClellan and his colleagues on the Senate Government Operations Committee probed a little. They learned that the sheet metal workers' strike was simply a feud with another union — the carpenters.

The local sheet metal men were fighting their own local war and only the courts stopped them.

They wanted more of the work on the base — and not even a telegram from their international president, Edward F. Carlough of the Washington headquarters, moved them.

THEY WANTED to install the glass lining. But the contractors assigned the work to the carpenters.

Those in charge of construction said these tasks always had gone to carpenters. But the sheet metal workers came up with a gimmick. They said the work traditionally goes to the union of the first man taken on for the specific assignment.

The contractors said, of course, the first man was a carpenter. The sheet metal workers said no, he was a sheet metal worker.

The contractors asked to whom were the defiant ones referring. They named the man. The operators said, oh him! Why he's a superintendent. Retorted the strikers, ah yes,' but he carries a sheet metal workers' card. It so happened that he did carry one. But he had been hired as superintendent and not as a sheet metal worker.

Mind you, while all this was going on, a mighty multi-million dollar defense base was waiting for finishing touches.

All this has a Gallagher and Sheen touch. But it's absolutely, positively not funny when thousands of dollars drip away with each minute. And for two days the local sheet metal workers picketed right across the board —not only the one site in question but all 18. They'd still be out if it weren't for the courts.

SOMEBODY should tell some of the local hotheads there's an international cold war on. These delays add up. Weeks ago the Lincoln Air Force Base was struck. Then the missile sites at Little Rock.

Then the Atlas complex over at Roswell, N.M. There, 175 operating engineers, also defying their national officers, stopped work.

They disapproved of the number of men that Boeing Catalytic Co. assigned to the two-hour shifts which prepared work for the incoming full shifts.

The engineers, who run power plants and equipment at all the sites, thought more men should be hired. The company disagreed. So they walked out.

If all these strike-happy locals don't listen to reason, a lot of people in Washington will stop reasoning with them and their national leaders. Strikes will be made illegal, as Sen. McClellan demanded last week. They will have brought it on their own hot heads.

Nothing bores me more than dreary recital of events leading away from overpublicized marriages like the one between that actress person and the singer fellow. My trouble is I think of the people getting it in the neck instead of the headlines—the people being pushed out to make room for the new "arrangement."

You have to hand it to the pro football people for learning how to muscle in on the spring baseball buildup with headlines of their own. Pro baseball used to have a monopoly on sports pages from Groundhog Day straight through to Labor Day, except for occasional stories about basketball.

I get a kick out of people who sidle up to me and let me know sotto voce they're on my side in the feud over whether the First Lady is a flibbertigibbet or the greatest thing that has been put in the White House since central heating. It's all right. . . you can't be sent to Texas for liking Jackie.

The dog food ad that said to send in paw prints and win enough money to live 1st class finally was taken seriously, but it would have been easier to draw a picture of the whole dog than to paw-print a pesky pup that never has stood still that long in her misspent life to date—all 10 months of it.

An associate who totes his lunch in a paper bag turned it over to me today because he had a free-loading invitation. I liked it so much I plan to ask his wife to pack me a lunch every day so I won't have to go out of the building to get something fit to eat. What about my own wife? Just leave her out of this. She packs her own lunch.

Two rejected lambs turned over to a bright-eyed brother and sister this spring have hit the big time for Twillery lambs—a trip to school with ribbons tied around their necks and their fleeces white as snow, thanks to a good scrubbing.

Skeptics will have to forgive me for remembering about the early warning system that was going to keep the Japs from sneaking up on Hawaii. When the system did what it was supposed to do, a bored young officer told a flunkey that's how we had Pearl Harbor.

Work Stoppages Cripple Defense Program

Work stoppages at bases in this country where missiles and space vehicles are being built by the United States government are so serious that the only remedy may be the passage of a law by Congress outlawing strikes in this field.

David Lawrence

There is a big mystery over what's been happening. There is no evidence of Communist infiltration but the net result of the work stoppages has nevertheless been to delay the American missile program. Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who has been in charge of hearings by a Senate subcommittee on the subject of delays in the construction of missiles, told the Senate recently:

"Had these work stoppages during the years 1956 through 1961 not occurred, it is reasonably certain that we would have been able to have a manned orbital flight much earlier than we did. . . .

"No man can say with certainty what the time losses have cost us or may yet cost us."

The Arkansas senator noted a rise during the months of January and February of this year "not only in man-days lost but in the types of disputes, including jurisdictional disputes."

A national commission had been appointed by the federal government, labor leaders had publicly taken a no-strike pledge, but the work stoppages at the bases persisted.

Only this week they had become so serious that a special meeting was called at the Pentagon, at which were assembled labor leaders, contractors and public representatives. Secretary of Defense McNamara and Secretary of Labor Goldberg spoke to the group, and Vice President Johnson, chairman of the Space Council, also attended.

But meetings and pleas have been tried before to no avail. There has been much talk of the "public interest," but it falls on deaf ears.

It could be that the labor leaders themselves are not quite sure what causes all the friction in the ranks. Jurisdictional disputes sometimes furnish a convenient way of hiding the real malcontents. Trouble is easily stirred up that way.

More than a year ago the Senate subcommittee began its investigation. On April 25, 1961, the secretary of labor established a Missile Site Public Contracts Advisory Committee to recommend "fair and impartial standards" to the Department of Labor. On Aug. 25, 1961, such work standards were submitted to Secretary Goldberg, and the report was released to the public on Oct. 14, 1961.

The Senate subcommittee inquired and was told on Dec. 15, 1961, that the standards recommended "are still under study, and as yet no action has been taken by the secretary of labor."

THE FINDINGS and conclusions of the McClellan committee were made available to the public within the last three weeks. They say in part:

"Approximately one-half of the man-days lost occurred at the test center at Cape Canaveral, Fla., where intercontinental ballistic missiles and space rockets were tested and proven before becoming operational.

"The space and missile programs, upon which our survival depends in the mortal struggle with communism, were intolerably delayed by wildcat strikes, work stoppages, slowdowns, and a deliberate policy of low productivity, callously indulged in during the 4½ year period by local union officials and local union members, who placed profit and greed ahead of their devotion to the safety of our country.

"These hearings have disclosed that many of these workers, through strikes and other pressures tactics, have collected millions of dollars in exorbitant, unnecessary overtime pay in a brazen gouge of the U.S. taxpayer.

"Testimony shows that many of the strikes and slowdowns had a common purpose — to stretch out the jobs and to put pressure on the contractor and the government to pay overtime in order to meet the construction deadlines.

"Instances of overtime pay reached the outrageous levels of journeymen electricians collecting $748 a week; truck drivers, $324 a week; and ditchdiggers, $287 a week.

"Slowdowns and low rates of productivity, estimated by witnesses to be as low as 40 per cent of normal capacity, have prevailed at missile construction sites."

SO THERE WAS no lack of money — and the management side got high profits, too. What more effective way, therefore, to delay, if not frustrate, America's progress in space than by slowdowns, strikes and jurisdictional disputes?

Maybe congressional committees will some day uncover the real answer. It is still a mystery not merely to public officials but also to those loyal labor leaders who have been trying to prevent work stoppages, only to be plagued with unauthorized interruptions called "wildcat strikes."

Letters To The Editor

Recently the county commissioners stated they were re-submitting the two levies in the May primaries that were defeated last November in the general election; namely, a levy for the operation of the county courthouse and a levy for the care and maintenance of the County Home for the aged.

I would like to say here that I believe they will be defeated again. The reason I say this is because people in general feel that they are taxed too much already and don't want more taxes to pay.

However, I would take a moment here and remind the general public of the Fifth Commandment in the Bible — "Honor thy Father and thy Mother". Many people feel that this means their own individual parents; but I say they are wrong to feel that way. I believe it especially refers to the treatment of all aged dependents. It reminds the adult citizen of his responsibility to the aged who are no longer able to care for themselves.

There are now 15,000,000 persons 65 years of age or older in the Unied States. A civilized society does not neglect its old people. It is one of our basic responsibilities to provide a secure and friendly environment for these people. This is why we must have a home for the aged in Columbiana County.

I, at the present, will not elaborate too much on our present County Home as it has been some time since I made my last visit. I do believe that there is some needless waste in various phases of its present operation through no fault of its administrator. I do intend to make another visit soon and perhaps after I have a few more facts and figures and am able to reach a suitable solution to a few problems in my own mind, I can forcefully present you with the facts and give you a general picture of how to have a good County Home for the aged and at the same time save the taxpayers' money, not only on the present level but in the future.

Operation Failure, Doctor Died

When Britain's National Health Service was 10 years old in 1958, the medical weekly Lancet commented:

"For our part we think the National Health Service one of the biggest improvements in the life of this country since the war. Thanks to hard and intelligent work by a great many people, professional and lay, it has done much to better the conditions of medical care, and it has been an immense comfort to the public."

What had happened was that a nation whose medical care never had been available to people lacking financial means to pay for it was getting something it never had enjoyed before. National Health Service was a popular success.

BUT NOW comes a long-term effect that is upsetting all earlier appraisals of the service's popular success. Britain is losing doctors.

The current issue of the British Medical Journal reports it lost 749 to the United States from 1956 to 1960. In the same period it lost 1,071 to Canada, 1,060 to Australia, 202 to South Africa, 184 to New Zealand and others to Souther Rhodesia and Northern Rhodesia.

What went wrong? Why are British doctors leaving home in such numbers that one estimate puts as many as half of all internships and residencies in Britain in possession of some 4,000 non-British doctors, most of them from India and Pakistan?

Is anything in sight to halt this outward-bound trend of young British doctors? What is affecting their attitude?

The explanation lies in this quotation from a high-ranking National Health Service official, as published in United States & World Report:

"IF WE HAD a chance to di it again, I think that we would favor some form of compulsory medical insurance, supplemented by tax funds together with subsidies to hospitals to keep down costs. We would also act to limit the cost of drugs. In short, the state would insure that everyone had access to medical care at a reasonable cost, but without nationalizing the entire system and putting all doctors on the government payroll."

Too late, the socialists in Britain have discovered what socialists never see when they draw their blueprints to make over the world to their own specifications—that human nature never follows blueprints but consults its own variable moods.

Men as individuals have no interest in making the collectionizers look like geniuses, not even in the Soviet Union.

The Problem Is Louisiana

A district federal court order to integrate the first six grades of public school in New Orleans next fall follows by a few days strong evidence that Catholic parochial schools in the city are going to be integrated on pain of excommunication for church members who resist.

Does this mean there finally will be something more than token integration in New Orleans—a dozen Negroes attending half a dozen New Orleans schools?

Have the federal court and the Catholic Church found a way to force actual integration in the most urbane city of the Deep South?

The answer is not an automatic yes, though the combination of bench and pulpit is formidable. The complication is that New Orleans cannot control the outcome of the issue. It is dominated by the state in which it is situated.

The problem is Louisiana.

New Orleans is one of the great cities of the Western World — cosmopolitan, cultured, jealous of its reputation as one of civilization's showplaces. As such, it has nothing in common with the kind of Louisiana politician whose stock in trade is racial discrimination.

The metropols is the prisoner of the boondocks and the kind of politics that goes over best in the boondocks. This is shameful and embarrassing to the sophisticated residents of New Orleans. They, too, have prejudices but they have the restraint to govern their prejudices. They are jealous of their city's good name.

The integration problem will be with them in acute form next year. Louisiana politicians will make certain of that. Once more there will be riots staged for television, imported goons to make certain nothing is done without violence, orators brought in from the back country to stir up hatred and arm-waving politicos shilling for white supremacy votes. It will be another Little Rock for race-baiters—and don't be surprised if agitators from neighboring Arkansas show up.

Yes, It Could Have Been Liz

Newspapers frequently are the target of those who live and thrive on public acclaim but would like to keep their personal lives a deep, dark secret.

Charges of gossiping and rumor-mongering are leveled at the press, radio and television. Readers and listeners are led to believe the things they read and hear are irresponsible, with no basis in fact.

On Friday, March 30, in a New York press interview, Eddie made this statement about rumors that his three-year marriage with Liz was on the rocks:

"The rumors are preposterous, ridiculous and absolutely false. The only romance between Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton is Marc Antony and Cleopatra, and I might say a mighty good one." (They are co-starred in the movie "Cleopatra.")

Three days later, on Monday, April 2, a New York attorney was authorized to make this announcement:

"Elizabeth and Eddie Fisher announce that they have mutually agreed to part. Divorce proceedings will be instituted soon."

Who changed Eddie's mind? Could it have been Liz?

"Had these work stoppages during the years 1956 through 1961 not occurred, it is reasonably certain that we would have been able to have a manned orbital flight much earlier than we did. . . .

"No man can say with certainty what the time losses have cost us or may yet cost us."

The Arkansas senator noted a rise during the months of January and February of this year "not only in man-days lost but in the types of disputes, including jurisdictional disputes."

A national commission had been appointed by the federal government, labor leaders had publicly taken a no-strike pledge, but the work stoppages at the bases persisted.

Only this week they had become so serious that a special meeting was called at the Pentagon, at which were assembled labor leaders, contractors and public representatives. Secretary of Defense McNamara and Secretary of Labor Goldberg spoke to the group, and Vice President Johnson, chairman of the Space Council, also attended.

But meetings and pleas have been tried before to no avail. There has been much talk of the "public interest," but it falls on deaf ears.

It could be that the labor leaders themselves are not quite sure what causes all the friction in the ranks. Jurisdictional disputes sometimes furnish a convenient way of hiding the real malcontents. Trouble is easily stirred up that way.

More than a year ago the Senate subcommittee began its investigation. On April 25, 1961, the secretary of labor established a Missile Site Public Contracts Advisory Committee to recommend "fair and impartial standards" to the Department of Labor. On Aug. 25, 1961, such work standards were submitted to Secretary Goldberg, and the report was released to the public on Oct. 14, 1961.

The Senate subcommittee inquired and was told on Dec. 15, 1961, that the standards recommended "are still under study, and as yet no action has been taken by the secretary of labor."

THE FINDINGS and conclusions of the McClellan committee were made available to the public within the last three weeks. They say in part:

"Approximately one-half of the man-days lost occurred at the test center at Cape Canaveral, Fla., where intercontinental ballistic missiles and space rockets were tested and proven before becoming operational.

"The space and missile programs, upon which our survival depends in the mortal struggle with communism, were intolerably delayed by wildcat strikes, work stoppages, slowdowns, and a deliberate policy of low productivity, callously indulged in during the 4½ year period by local union officials and local union members, who placed profit and greed ahead of their devotion to the safety of our country.

"These hearings have disclosed that many of these workers, through strikes and other pressures tactics, have collected millions of dollars in exorbitant, unnecessary overtime pay in a brazen gouge of the U.S. taxpayer.

"Testimony shows that many of the strikes and slowdowns had a common purpose — to stretch out the jobs and to put pressure on the contractor and the government to pay overtime in order to meet the construction deadlines.

"Instances of overtime pay reached the outrageous levels of journeymen electricians collecting $748 a week; truck drivers, $324 a week; and ditchdiggers, $287 a week.

"Slowdowns and low rates of productivity, estimated by witnesses to be as low as 40 per cent of normal capacity, have prevailed at missile construction sites."

SO THERE WAS no lack of money — and the management side got high profits, too. What more effective way, therefore, to delay, if not frustrate, America's progress in space than by slowdowns, strikes and jurisdictional disputes?

Maybe congressional committees will some day uncover the real answer. It is still a mystery not merely to public officials but also to those loyal labor leaders who have been trying to prevent work stoppages, only to be plagued with unauthorized interruptions called "wildcat strikes."

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Miss Olive Pelly presented a trumpet selection at a meeting of the Pleasant Heights Home and School Association.

Mildred and Evelyn McMillan were taken into the Betsy Ross club during a meeting at the home of Miss Gloria Ann McCoy of Fairview St.

The new plant of the E. C. Otis Manufacturing Co. of Chester began operation.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson of Main St., Wellsville, moved to Weirton.

Lawrence Aaron Diddle and Kenneth Orrin McCaughtry, both of Chester Ave., were among district men who enlisted in the Navy.

E. L. Anderson and Alfred Copestick were named to the Board of Trustees of the Second United Presbyterian Church.

TEN YEARS AGO — Ron Laneve of Newell's West Virginia Class B champions named on the All-West Virginia High School basketball team.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Caplan of Andrews Pl. left for a Caribbean cruise.

Letters To The Editor

Recently the county commissioners stated they were re-submitting the two levies in the May primaries that were defeated last November in the general election; namely, a levy for the operation of the county courthouse and a levy for the care and maintenance of the County Home for the aged.

I would like to say here that I believe they will be defeated again. The reason I say this is because people in general feel that they are taxed too much already and don't want more taxes to pay.

However, I would take a moment here and remind the general public of the Fifth Commandment in the Bible — "Honor thy Father and thy Mother". Many people feel that this means their own individual parents; but I say they are wrong to feel that way. I believe it especially refers to the treatment of all aged dependents. It reminds the adult citizen of his responsibility to the aged who are no longer able to care for themselves.

There are now 15,000,000 persons 65 years of age or older in the Unied States. A civilized society does not neglect its old people. It is one of our basic responsibilities to provide a secure and friendly environment for these people. This is why we must have a home for the aged in Columbiana County.

I, at the present, will not elaborate too much on our present County Home as it has been some time since I made my last visit. I do believe that there is some needless waste in various phases of its present operation through no fault of its administrator. I do intend to make another visit soon and perhaps after I have a few more facts and figures and am able to reach a suitable solution to a few problems in my own mind, I can forcefully present you with the facts and give you a general picture of how to have a good County Home for the aged and at the same time save the taxpayers' money, not only on the present level but in the future.

pains but no injury was found, upon examination.

Richard Shingleton of the McPherson Trailer Court, Hookstown, a passenger in a car driven by Police Chief Ronnie Vespaziani of Raccoon Township, was also examined and found uninjured. The car of the chief, who was unhurt, was following the DeBacco auto.

They were taken to the hospital by Hookstown Police Chief Virgil Septer and a Hopewell policeman in Septer's station wagon.

Mrs. Mary Courie went to hospital at 1:45 a. m. today and complained of numbness and nervousness. She said she had been knocked out of bed by the explosion. She was released after an examination.

Mrs. Courie, mother of Mrs. Rose Matthews of Shippingport, was baby sitting with her grandchildren. A medicine cabinet was blown off the wall, windows in an upstairs bedroom were blown out, clothes tossed out of a closet and articles from a cupboard.

The explosion apparently occurred when fire of unknown origin set off fertilizer in a utility storage shed in which there was a tank each of oxygen and acetylene.

Courtney said the fertilizer, ammonium nitrate, is used for blasting. He said there was some damage to equipment.

The explosion was heard or felt as far as East Palestine and Zelienople. In Beaver Falls, houses shook and one store window was damaged. Some sections of East Liverpool also felt the jar.

Mr. and Mrs. John Marker of Shippingport escaped injury when plaster fell between the elderly couple in their home.

State Police said the state fire Midland Fire Chief Vincent D'Itri said the blast "rocked" Midland and it was thought at first the atomic plant had exploded and there were fears of radiation fallout. Instead of seeking shelter, persons jammed the streets. Police contacted the plant and were assured the explosion had not occurred there.

Windows in a number of Midland stores were shattered and D'Itri said firemen and later auxiliary police were posted at the stores to prevent possible looting.

Hookstown Fire Chief Eugene Frasier said he was standing outside the Hookstown Borough Building with Ralph Wells when the flash and explosion occurred. A motorist near the scene returned to Hookstown and had the fire alarm sounded.

Frasier said they stopped at the Shamp house, which the blast wrecked, and with Earl Graham, Shippingport police officer, put out a fire in the stove since the smoke pipe had been blown off.

Firemen searched in the area of the mine after a report there were three men in the vicinity of the mine instead of two. Frasier said no one else was found. They used "Indian tanks" to put out a small fire at the scene.

Fire in a strip of rubber that was on a gas pump, which had been blown apart, also was quickly quelled.

Windows of a truck under the tipple were blown out, as were those of a 1951 sedan nearby. Sheet iron was strewn about.

Fire departments at the scene included Hookstown, Shippingport, Lawrenceville, which also sent its emergency car, and the Raccoon department.

Officers of the Beaver County barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police near Beaver Falls and Beaver County sheriff's deputies were at the scene.

About 1 this morning, Midland merchants boarded up windows smashed by the explosion. Those with shattered windows included Gamble's Drugstore, Midland Milling, People's Market, Doty Chevrolet and Oldsmobile Sales, Allen Furniture, Giambroni's Market, Tonti Hotel, Midland Savings & Loan Association, Ancrile Cleaners and Keystone Shoes, mostly on Midland Ave. marshal will investigate.

Damage is estimated to run into the thousands of dollars.

MIDLAND DAMAGE. Sal Glorioso, at right, owner of Gamble's Drugstore at Midland, surveys the remains of his plate glass windows shattered in the Shippingport coal mine blast Wednesday night. The store was one of about a dozen Midland business places that had glass damage from the concussion of the severe explosion.

County Teachers Set Annual Spring Dinner

The annual spring banquet of the Columbiana County Educational Association will be held April 26 at the Beaver Local Public School near Williamsport.

Dr. J. H. Wanamaker, superintendent of Youngstown schools, will be speaker. His topic will be "Recent Trends In Education For This Area In Ohio."

Officers will be elected for the coming year. John J. Gruszecki of Franklin School of the Southern Local District, president, will be in charge.

Realtors Board Airs Scholarship Plans

A further discussion on the scholarship fund of the East Liverpool Board of Realtors was held at the board's meeting Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Three scholarship winners from East Liverpool, Wellsville and Beaver Local High Schools will be announced at the May 1 meeting.

The board is composed of realtors in East Liverpool and Wellsville. W. F. McWhorter is president.

keep personnel on duty at City Hall 24 hours a day, and pointed out the water works office is closed evenings, Saturday afternoons and Sunday.

The ordinance calls for payment of costs of the telephones of Police Chief Harold Davis, Patrolman Clarence Lennens, Supt. Lewis Govey and also water works pumper Jess Selmon when Govey is on vacation. The measure goes into effect July 1.

Councilman Bishop reported 1st St. leading to the Chester - East Liverpool Bridge is pitted with potholes and should be repaired. Cashdollar was instructed to request the State Road Commission for patching work.

Cashdollar was also advised to ask the commission to have double traffic lines painted through the city earlier this year than in 1961 when the work was done after the racing meet at Waterford Park began.

Bishop reported Postmaster Robert Edwards has notified him a survey is being made concerning expanded mail delivery to the Tinsonville area.

Councilman Gibbs reported residents are dumping trash and refuse over the Ohio River bank at the north end of 5th St. No dumping signs have been erected, and violators will be prosecuted, it was announced.

Mayor Ray Collins reported quarterly collections of $911 in fines. Cashdollar reported $91 collected in licenses, with a March 31 city fund balance of $10,657. The Dec. 31 balance was $3,402.

Following the regular session, Council canvassed the primary election ballots, and certified the results with only one significant change in the results of Tuesday night.

Carl Graham, GOP nominee for Second Ward Council, picked up one additional vote, while his opponent, incumbent Councilman Cyril Govey, lost six to make the final tabulation Graham 103, Govey 93.

Fete Solicitation Head Appointed

George Prokop, general chairman of the St. Rocco Festival Aug. 12-18, announced that Sam Amato will serve as chairman of the festival solicitation committee.

The festival is sponsored annually by Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507.

Other appointments will be announced within the next few weeks, Prokop said. The P. & G. Amusement Co. of Massillon will provide the carnival rides.

Reports on various activities were heard at a meeting of the council Tuesday night. Leonard DeFalco, Catholic activities chairman, announced Communion Sunday will be observed this weekend and all members are expected to attend the 9:30 a. m. Mass.

Andrew Holowaty, fraternal activities chairman, report on members who are ill. The remodeling committee will meet at the K. of C. home Friday night at 8.

The council will meet again Tuesday night at 8. John Kozora is grand knight.

Advertisers of professions and services, aware of the growing demand for their functions, are increasing their flow of information to the public. In 1960, they upped their national newspaper advertising expenditure 25.1 per cent over 1959.

Yarmolinsky told a reporter he had nothing to do with the Walker case and that Walker's charges were irresponsible. "It happens that I have a public record as an anti-Communist," he declared. "My whole public record goes in the opposite direction from these charges."

He said it was true, as Walker charged, that he had attended some Young Communist League meetings.

He was a junior in high school at the time, he said, and went—against his parents advice—because "I was curious."

"I went to a couple of meetings and saw what it was, and I didn't go again," said Yarmolinsky.

Walker is specifically testifying on Army information and indoctrination programs for troops. The committee is investigating allegations that military officers' anti-Communist speeches and efforts have been muzzled. But the testimony often went far afield.

Walker, now seeking the Democratic nomination for the governorship of Texas, first read a 9,000-word prepared statement. Two associates sat by his side, occasionally prompting him and correcting his pronunciation. They identified themselves as Attorney C. J. Watts of Oklahoma City and Medford Evens of Dallas, a consultant.

Before the long day was done, Walker in his statements and under questioning from senators charged:

That the armed forces were "paralyzed by our national policy of 'no win' and retreat from victory."

That he was a victim of this policy—"I was charged with nothing. I have been found guilty of nothing, I have been punished for nothing."

That the President was to blame for his removal and admonishment—"the chief executive was both prosecutor and judge..."

Mothers Club Sets Election

About 28 attended a meeting of the Mothers Club Wednesday at the Beaver Local Public School at which Mrs. Paul Dailey, president of the Music Parents Association, spoke.

Mrs. Dailey's theme was "Music as a Science and Art," and stressed the importance of music in life today.

The group approved an amendment setting the annual election in May instead of September. A nominating committee presented a slate headed by Mrs. Ruth Green, and further nominations will be accepted before election at the meeting May 2.

Plans were made to serve a dinner meeting of the Columbiana County Teachers Association April 26 at the Public School.

Mrs. Betty Bradley and Mrs. Norma Stone were named chairmen of a jelly bean sale for Easter.

It was announced an eighth grade evening party will be held April 27 with Mrs. Fred Andreatta as chairman. Eighth grade commencement will be May 25 at the high school.

Mrs. Betty Keister, president, was in charge. Fourth grade mothers have been invited to the next meeting, a coverdish luncheon, May 2, at 1 p. m. at the school.

Contract

State Route 164, south of Columbiana, and U. S. Route 224, east of Canfield.

The California Hollow-West End Freeway, now under construction here, represents the southern terminus of the lake-river road, which eventually will stretch from East Liverpool to Ashtabula.

Overall cost of the Columbiana area of the road is set at $12 million, including right-of-way, construction and engineering, the Highway Department said.

The same Youngstown firm has the contract for plans for construction of a new roadway on outer St. Clair Ave.

One of the next phases of the lake-river road to be constructed also will be on the East Liverpool end. It will begin at the north city limits in California Hollow, where the first stage ends, and extend to a point near Substation, beyond State Route 170. State Highway Director Everett S. Preston has indicated the contract will be let sometime this year for the next East Liverpool area stage.

The Highway Department also pointed out that one Columbiana County project is included in a list of three in the New Philadelphia Division on which bids are scheduled to be opened Tuesday at 10 a. m. in Columbus.

It is a 1.92-mile job that is in part widening and resurfacing and in part new pavement replacement on State Route 518.

The project will begin at the intersections of State Routes 518 and 164 and continue east. It will improve alignment and profile to accommodate 40 - mile - an-hour speeds, the department said. It also will involve construction of a bridge over the west fork of Little Beaver Creek and the relocation of Township Rd. 776 south of Route 518 to match up with Township Rd. 776 to the north.

Track Carnival Set At Palestine 2 Nights

EAST PALESTINE — Final preparations were being made today for the annual Track Carnival to be held Friday and Saturday nights from 6 to 11 at the high school by the school track team.

Boxing, a style show, displays by businesses and industries, concessions and other entertainment are planned for the event sponsored by the track team to raise money for activities.

16 Area Men And 2 Women Join Navy In Last 2 Months

Sixteen area men and two women enlisted in the Navy during February and March, according to Chief Machinist's Mate Kenneth S. Brooks, local recruiter at the City Hall.

Signing in February were Clarence W. Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Morris of 7th Ave., LaCroft; Austin F. Eastham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin H. Eastham of Wellsville R. D. 1; Donald K. Dickey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl V. Dickey, 744 Stevens Ln.; Roy E. Anthony, son of Mrs. Margaret Jean Fulmer of the Old Salineville Rd., Wellsville; Terry W. O'Hara, son of Mrs. Pauline Riley, 915 Vine St.

James F. Penn, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Penn, 603 Church Alley, Chester, and Daniel L. McCowin, and Harry J. Harker, both of Salem.

Enlisting in March were Kenneth L. Hawthorne, husband of Mrs. Judith Sue Hawthorne, 101 Claiborne Ave., and son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Hawthorne, 311 W. 9th St.; Raymond L. Golding, son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Golding, 1237 Chiaffin St., and Richard P. Kwasnik, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kwasnik, 409 Almont St.

Also signing in March were William M. Cope, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Cope, 353 W. Pine St., Lisbon, and Jerome H. Hendren and Richard J. Hary, both of Salem.

Two prior servicemen re-enlisted last month. They were Raymond L. Everhart, husband of Mrs. Janet E. Everhart of Hanoverton R. D. 1, and Marlin J. Talbott, husband of Mrs. Betty Jean Talbott of Dewey Ave. Both signed for six years.

Roberta A. McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. McCoy, 104 Oak St., Leetonia, and Mary Ann Sposetta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Sposetta, 50 Chestnut St., Leetonia, both enlisted in the WAVES. They are taking their training at Bainbridge, Md.

Seasonal Slump Curtails Pottery

EAST PALESTINE — Reduction of operations at the Royal China Co. plant is continuing as a result of a "seasonal slump" officials said today, and production will be down to 48 per cent of capacity by Saturday.

Fred C. Henderson, vice president, said the cutback on operations is a yearly occurrence, adding he hopes production will pick up shortly.

The Royal firm took over Plant No. 1 of the W. S. George Pottery Co. in May last year, and has been operating at full production since, hitting a maximum employment of 310.

Henderson said the slowdown will permit "badly needed repairs of machines and equipment which have been operating constantly for months."

Mothers Club Sets Election

About 28 attended a meeting of the Mothers Club Wednesday at the Beaver Local Public School at which Mrs. Paul Dailey, president of the Music Parents Association, spoke.

Mrs. Dailey's theme was "Music as a Science and Art," and stressed the importance of music in life today.

The group approved an amendment setting the annual election in May instead of September. A nominating committee presented a slate headed by Mrs. Ruth Green, and further nominations will be accepted before election at the meeting May 2.

Plans were made to serve a dinner meeting of the Columbiana County Teachers Association April 26 at the Public School.

Mrs. Betty Bradley and Mrs. Norma Stone were named chairmen of a jelly bean sale for Easter.

It was announced an eighth grade evening party will be held April 27 with Mrs. Fred Andreatta as chairman. Eighth grade commencement will be May 25 at the high school.

Mrs. Betty Keister, president, was in charge. Fourth grade mothers have been invited to the next meeting, a coverdish luncheon, May 2, at 1 p. m. at the school.

Bargain Travel Rates Dangled

Kennedy Proposes Fund For Traffic-Tied Cities

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy proposed a $500 million handout to traffic-strangled cities today and dangled hopes of eventual bargain rates before the nation's air, rail and bus travelers.

Kennedy bundled up his ideas in a 10,000-word transportation message and sent it off to Congress. He ignored former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's recommendation for creation of a government department of transportation.

The $500 million would be only a first installment, spread over three years, to be given to public agencies. They would put up some partially matching funds and use the combined federal-local money for "the revitalization and needed expansion of public mass transportation."

For the traveling public and for bulk freight—grain, coal ore—and farm and fishery products, Kennedy recommended that Congress end minimum rates prescribed under federal regulation. Just what passengers on what lines might get lower rates in time was not spelled out. But federal officials said they hoped for some "bargain rates to attract people away from cars" as well as for congressional action to prevent price wars.

The rate and mass transit recommendations, and a string of others, were parts of a vast, long-range attack on complicated, controversial problems Kennedy said "are burdening our national transportation system, jeopardizing the progress and security on which we depend."

In general, Kennedy spoke for continued reliance on private transport and for what he termed fundamental, far-reaching reforms in federal policies—reforms designed to downgrade regulating and subsidizing and make carriers "fit, lean and progressive by vigorous competition and innovation."

Canceled last year, delayed this year, the transportation message was the last of a series Kennedy planned to offer to the present Congress in amplification of his program for the country.

Facets of it may stir up storms of discord in Congress and outside. But Kennedy nevertheless urged Congress to get started as soon as possible.

The recommendation for exemption from minimum rate regulation for carriers of passengers, bulk commodities and farm and fishery products, Kennedy said, would get at the most critical and controversial problems of all in the area of unneeded regulatory curbs. For airline passenger traffic, Kennedy said it might be a good idea to start on a gradual, trial basis.

As things stand now, only water carriers have the exemption with respect to bulk freight and only motor carriers and freight forwarders with respect to agricultural and fishery products.

Nursing Home Group Elects City Resident

Toney Adkins of East Liverpool was elected president of the Columbiana County unit of the Ohio State Federation of Nursing Home Operators at a meeting Wednesday night at the Wick Hotel at Lisbon.

Adkins succeeds County Judge Herbert Arfman of Leetonia.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Marie B. Nentwick of East Liverpool, vice president; Pearl Wheatley of East Liverpool, treasurer, and Pauline Griffith of Wellsville, secretary.

Firm Denies Huge Profits On Nike Pacts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials of the Douglas Aircraft Co. have bitterly denied they reaped excessive profits from the Army on Nike missile contracts.

Donald W. Douglas Jr., the company's president, accused aides of a Senate Investigations subcommittee Wednesday of manipulating figures to picture profits as too high.

"The numbers are accurate, but nobody puts their numbers together that way," Douglas said in challenging documents prepared by the subcommittee staff. These purported to show that Douglas Aircraft's profits on 17 Nike contracts in 1952-61 totaled $45.58 million but that subcontractors did most of the work.

Robert E. Dunne, staff investigator, said this was equivalent to a 44.3 per cent profit on the portions of the contracts performed by Douglas at its own plants.

Dunne said the profits, figures against the work done by Douglas and its subcontractors combined, would be 7.6 per cent on the 17 contracts totaling $952.74 million for producing various components of the Nike missile system.

Douglas, armed with stacks of charts and flanked at the witness table by a half dozen subordinates, called this "arithmetical manipulation which borders on economic frivolity . . . a gross distortion."

He said the contracts actually totaled $939 million, "and our profit from those sales before federal income taxes approximated $29.8 million, a rate of less than 3.2 per cent of sales." Income taxes took more than half of that profit, he added.

Pupils' Party Planned

Donald W. Douglas Jr., the company's president, accused aides of a Senate Investigations subcommittee Wednesday of manipulating figures to picture profits as too high.

"The numbers are accurate, but nobody puts their numbers together that way," Douglas said in challenging documents prepared by the subcommittee staff. These purported to show that Douglas Aircraft's profits on 17 Nike contracts in 1952-61 totaled $45.58 million but that subcontractors did most of the work.

Robert E. Dunne, staff investigator, said this was equivalent to a 44.3 per cent profit on the portions of the contracts performed by Douglas at its own plants.

Dunne said the profits, figures against the work done by Douglas and its subcontractors combined, would be 7.6 per cent on the 17 contracts totaling $952.74 million for producing various components of the Nike missile system.

Douglas, armed with stacks of charts and flanked at the witness table by a half dozen subordinates, called this "arithmetical manipulation which borders on economic frivolity . . . a gross distortion."

He said the contracts actually totaled $939 million, "and our profit from those sales before federal income taxes approximated $29.8 million, a rate of less than 3.2 per cent of sales." Income taxes took more than half of that profit, he added.

Pupils' Party Planned

ROGERS — Plans for an Easter party for students at the Rogers School were to be outlined at a meeting of the Rogers Mothers Club today.

Bowling League, Art Exhibit Planned By Midland K. Of C.

Plans for a bowling league, the sixth annual art exhibit and other upcoming events of Midland Knights of Columbus, Council 2005, have been announced by Anthony Martell, grand knight.

The Chapter Bowling League will be held at the Riviera Lanes in Midland. Singles and doubles will be run off Saturday, April 14, and the five-man team events will be held Sunday, April 15. Interested members are to contact Albert Troiani at the Riviera Lanes.

The art exhibit will be held June 20-July 7. Joseph Jonas Jr. and James Green will be co-chairmen. The general committee is Ted Kovalesky, Gene Rutherford and John Milkovich.

Others are Charles Karolewski, Angelo Cellini, Lou Bruno, Ralph Cilli and Carl DiMarzio, setup and erecting; Martell, Green and Jonas, award presentations, and Kovalesky, Rutherford, Ted Castelli and Emeric Davis, financial.

Seventeen members will be named as hosts and several will serve each night during the art show. They will be named later.

Instead of the usual 50-mile radius, entries will be accepted from a 100-mile radius of Midland.

Brochures and entry blanks will be mailed to all who entered the show previously. Others will be mailed upon request. Interested persons may contact Anthony Martell, 620 Midland Ave., Midland, or James Green, 1137 Beaver Ave., Midland, for entry blanks.

Other activities and chairman include a "Sports Night" April 23, Tony DiMarzio; "A" award dinner May 28, Lou Bruno, and anniversary and Knight-of-the-Year award banquet, Ted Castelli. Other events are Bishop Wright's dinner for St. Anthony's, June 21, at Pittsburgh, and entry of the Council's float in the annual Midland July 4th parade.

Educators To Meet

LISBON — The Columbiana County High School Principals Association will meet tonight at 6:30 at the Wick Hotel. It is comprised of principals of high schools in the county, exempted village and city school systems. Discussion will center on common problems and new trends in education. Principal Lee Kirkland of Beaver Local High School will be chairman.

Elegant hamburgers: after frying the meat patties, dissolve the brown particles in the bottom of the skillet with a little sherry or red wine. To do this stir with a wooden spoon over very low heat. Pour this sauce, strained if you like, over the cooked meat. If there is an excessive amount of fat in the skillet after frying the hamburgers, it should be poured off before the wine is added.

VIEWS OF THE HOME SHOW. More than 600 area residents visited the annual Home and Sports Show which opened Wednesday night at the former American Paper Products building on Walnut St. under auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Play, Book Review Mark Meetings Of CWF Circles

A play, book review and church report highlighted circle meetings of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Church of Christ Monday night.

Circle 1 and 3 enjoyed a performance of "With Halo Away," given by Mrs. Wilma Hilditch, Mrs. Kay Barker, Mrs. Esther Walters, Mrs. Rachel Shingler and Mrs. Ruth Pearson.

Worship was conducted by Mrs. Pearson, who read Scripture from Ps. 33 and Rom. 12. Her topic was "You Shall Be My Witness" and she offered prayer.

Business was conducted by Mrs. Pearson, president, with reports given by Mrs. Kay Barker, secretary, and Mrs. Bessie Wehner, treasurer.

Mrs. Cecil Brown, membership chairman, reported she snet 6 cards and three floral bouquets and made 12 calls.

Refreshments were served 12 by Mrs. Mildred Scott and Mrs. Matilda Chapman. Next meeting is May 7 with Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Hilditch, hostesses.

Mrs. Geraldine Schneider, program chairman, discussed "The Churches In Latin America Find New Life" for the joint meeting of Circles 2 and 4.

Mrs. Sadie Whitney conducted devotions with the use of Scripture from John and offering prayer.

Mrs. Charlotte Keller, president, conducted business. Mrs. June Jackson read the minutes and financial reports. Plans were discussed to increase attendance.

Lunch was served nine by Mrs. Doris Marshall and Mrs. Keller. Next meeting is May 7. Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Whitney are hostesses.

The Leona Holroyd Circle met with Miss Mildred Rose of Riverview St.

Mrs. Vallie Mostller, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Juanita Clendenning, who reviewed the book, "The Quiet Crusaders" (McCorkle).

Mrs. Helen Moore read Scripture from Psalms for the worship. Miss Rose sang "In the Garden."

Mrs. Hazel Miller, president, conducted business. Reports were heard from Mrs. Bonnie Smith, secretary, and Mrs. Mildred Alley, treasurer.

Mrs. Edith Price and Mrs. Beulah Jones were named to the nominating committee. A letter was read from Mrs. Holroyd, the living-link missionary in Mexico. The group decided to finish the layettes before the next meeting.

Refreshments were served 18 by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Edna Springer and Mrs. Miller, associate hostesses. Mrs. Ila Pietsch of John St. will entertain May 7. Mrs. Edith Price and Mrs. Frances Ann Carr are co-hostesses.

The circles will be represented at the birthday dinner meeting of the missionary society of the Wellsville Church today. The state convention will be held May 15-17 at Lima and the annual retreat June 23-23 at Hiram College.

The 86th running of the Preakness of Pimlico next May 19 has drawn 163 nominations, the largest number since 1956 when nominations totaled a record 176.

O.U. Alumni Plan Dinner For April 24

The annual dinner meeting of the Tri-State Chapter of the Ohio University Alumni Association will be held April 24 at the East Liverpool Country Club.

The date was set Wednesday night when the chapter's directors met in the conference room at The Review.

The speaker, from the university, will be announced later. Among the guests will be Martin Hecht, alumni secretary, and Jack Gilbert, a native of East Liverpool, recently appointed assistant alumni secretary.

New officers and directors will be elected during a brief business session before the program.

Mrs. Dorothy Lynch of Fisher Ave. is the chapter's president. Reservations for the dinner may be made with her, with the deadline April 15. Wives and husbands of anyone who attended Ohio U. for one or more semesters are eligible to attend. For the first time, invitations also are being extended to parents of students now enrolled in the university.

Castro Brands Ecuador's Chief Drunken Coward

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro called Ecuador's President Carlos Arosemena a drunken coward Wednesday night and predicted he might meet a worse fate than Argentine President Arturo Frondizi.

The Cuban prime minister said that Arosemena was on his way to becoming "a prisoner of the military" who, Castro said, forced Arosemena to break diplomatic relations with Cuba Tuesday.

"Any day they'll grab him and take him to an embassy," Castro said in a televised speech to the first National Congress of Young Communists.

"Any day he'll wake up in an embassy. It is possible that the military will act with him worse than with Frondizi as he has been more cowardly than Frondizi."

Castro said Arosemena spent long days "completely inebriated" and that he had been known to remain intoxicated for a week. He added that photographs of the Ecuadorean president during drinking sprees exist.

There had been speculation that Castro might announce sentences for 1,179 captives of last year's Bay of Pigs invasion but he made no mention of the prisoners, whose trial ended Tuesday.

When you are thickening canned fruit syrup with corn starch for a pudding sauce, stir the mixture constantly over moderate heat until it boils; then, still stirring, boil about two minutes. We recommend this method because corn starch needs thorough cooking; however, it should not be overcooked or it will "break down."

Grace Church Women's Groups Will Revise Roster

Plans to revise inactive membership rolls were discussed at circle meetings of the Women's Association of the Grace United Presbyterian Church Monday night.

The McLain Circle met with Mrs. Phyllis Conley of Dixonville. Mrs. Jeanette Baker conducted the Bible study on "Adam's Trespass And Christ's Act of Righteousness." She used Scripture reference from Romans and general discussion followed.

Mrs. Peggy Barker led the mission study on the topic, "Is This Gift Necessary," from the Sunday school manual, "Discovery." Mrs. Gertrude Blevins led prayer for missions and Mrs. Conley conducted the prayer circle.

Mrs. Blevins, circle leader, presided for business. Get-well card cards were signed for Mrs. J. E. Boyd and Mrs. Lottie Dorsey. Crib quilts were made during the project session.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Barker. Next meeting is May 7 with Mrs. Lillie Clemensen of Ohio Ave. Mrs. Mabel Seckman will have the Bible study and Mrs. Harriet Stull, the mission study.

Play, Book Review Mark Meetings Of CWF Circles

A play, book review and church report highlighted circle meetings of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Church of Christ Monday night.

Circle 1 and 3 enjoyed a performance of "With Halo Away," given by Mrs. Wilma Hilditch, Mrs. Kay Barker, Mrs. Esther Walters, Mrs. Rachel Shingler and Mrs. Ruth Pearson.

Worship was conducted by Mrs. Pearson, who read Scripture from Ps. 33 and Rom. 12. Her topic was "You Shall Be My Witness" and she offered prayer.

Business was conducted by Mrs. Pearson, president, with reports given by Mrs. Kay Barker, secretary, and Mrs. Bessie Wehner, treasurer.

Mrs. Cecil Brown, membership chairman, reported she snet 6 cards and three floral bouquets and made 12 calls.

Refreshments were served 12 by Mrs. Mildred Scott and Mrs. Matilda Chapman. Next meeting is May 7 with Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Hilditch, hostesses.

Mrs. Geraldine Schneider, program chairman, discussed "The Churches In Latin America Find New Life" for the joint meeting of Circles 2 and 4.

Mrs. Sadie Whitney conducted devotions with the use of Scripture from John and offering prayer.

Mrs. Charlotte Keller, president, conducted business. Mrs. June Jackson read the minutes and financial reports. Plans were discussed to increase attendance.

Lunch was served nine by Mrs. Doris Marshall and Mrs. Keller. Next meeting is May 7. Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Whitney are hostesses.

The Leona Holroyd Circle met with Miss Mildred Rose of Riverview St.

Mrs. Vallie Mostller, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Juanita Clendenning, who reviewed the book, "The Quiet Crusaders" (McCorkle).

Mrs. Helen Moore read Scripture from Psalms for the worship. Miss Rose sang "In the Garden."

Mrs. Hazel Miller, president, conducted business. Reports were heard from Mrs. Bonnie Smith, secretary, and Mrs. Mildred Alley, treasurer.

Mrs. Edith Price and Mrs. Beulah Jones were named to the nominating committee. A letter was read from Mrs. Holroyd, the living-link missionary in Mexico. The group decided to finish the layettes before the next meeting.

Refreshments were served 18 by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Edna Springer and Mrs. Miller, associate hostesses. Mrs. Ila Pietsch of John St. will entertain May 7. Mrs. Edith Price and Mrs. Frances Ann Carr are co-hostesses.

The circles will be represented at the birthday dinner meeting of the missionary society of the Wellsville Church today. The state convention will be held May 15-17 at Lima and the annual retreat June 23-23 at Hiram College.

The 86th running of the Preakness of Pimlico next May 19 has drawn 163 nominations, the largest number since 1956 when nominations totaled a record 176.

O.U. Alumni Plan Dinner For April 24

The annual dinner meeting of the Tri-State Chapter of the Ohio University Alumni Association will be held April 24 at the East Liverpool Country Club.

The date was set Wednesday night when the chapter's directors met in the conference room at The Review.

The speaker, from the university, will be announced later. Among the guests will be Martin Hecht, alumni secretary, and Jack Gilbert, a native of East Liverpool, recently appointed assistant alumni secretary.

New officers and directors will be elected during a brief business session before the program.

Mrs. Dorothy Lynch of Fisher Ave. is the chapter's president. Reservations for the dinner may be made with her, with the deadline April 15. Wives and husbands of anyone who attended Ohio U. for one or more semesters are eligible to attend. For the first time, invitations also are being extended to parents of students now enrolled in the university.

Castro Brands Ecuador's Chief Drunken Coward

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro called Ecuador's President Carlos Arosemena a drunken coward Wednesday night and predicted he might meet a worse fate than Argentine President Arturo Frondizi.

The Cuban prime minister said that Arosemena was on his way to becoming "a prisoner of the military" who, Castro said, forced Arosemena to break diplomatic relations with Cuba Tuesday.

"Any day they'll grab him and take him to an embassy," Castro said in a televised speech to the first National Congress of Young Communists.

"Any day he'll wake up in an embassy. It is possible that the military will act with him worse than with Frondizi as he has been more cowardly than Frondizi."

Castro said Arosemena spent long days "completely inebriated" and that he had been known to remain intoxicated for a week. He added that photographs of the Ecuadorean president during drinking sprees exist.

There had been speculation that Castro might announce sentences for 1,179 captives of last year's Bay of Pigs invasion but he made no mention of the prisoners, whose trial ended Tuesday.

When you are thickening canned fruit syrup with corn starch for a pudding sauce, stir the mixture constantly over moderate heat until it boils; then, still stirring, boil about two minutes. We recommend this method because corn starch needs thorough cooking; however, it should not be overcooked or it will "break down."

Grace Church Women's Groups Will Revise Roster

Plans to revise inactive membership rolls were discussed at circle meetings of the Women's Association of the Grace United Presbyterian Church Monday night.

The McLain Circle met with Mrs. Phyllis Conley of Dixonville. Mrs. Jeanette Baker conducted the Bible study on "Adam's Trespass And Christ's Act of Righteousness." She used Scripture reference from Romans and general discussion followed.

Mrs. Peggy Barker led the mission study on the topic, "Is This Gift Necessary," from the Sunday school manual, "Discovery." Mrs. Gertrude Blevins led prayer for missions and Mrs. Conley conducted the prayer circle.

Mrs. Blevins, circle leader, presided for business. Get-well card cards were signed for Mrs. J. E. Boyd and Mrs. Lottie Dorsey. Crib quilts were made during the project session.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Barker. Next meeting is May 7 with Mrs. Lillie Clemensen of Ohio Ave. Mrs. Mabel Seckman will have the Bible study and Mrs. Harriet Stull, the mission study.

Mrs. Marilyn Cowan of Longvue Heights was hostess for the Martha Circle. Miss Mary Phinn conducted the Bible study on "Righteousness" and led the mission study on "Adventures In Brazil."

Mrs. Cowan led the dedication of "The Fellowship of the Least Coin." As circle leader, she also conducted business. Mrs. Martha White read the financial report.

Mrs. Donald Poynter of the Lisbon Rd., Wellsville, is under observation at City Hospital.

Vincent Drago, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Drago, 410 Broadway, Wellsville, was admitted to City Hospital Wednesday night for observation.

Train Chase Topic Set By Civil War Group

A general discussion of "The Great Locomotive Chase of 1862" will be held at a meeting of the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Carnegie Library.

The discussion will center on the famed raid by some 22 Union soldiers into Georgia in 1862, stealing a train but later being captured by Confederates near Chattanooga. Eight of the men, including William Campbell of Salineville, were hanged.

Plans for a dinner in observance of the anniversary of the event have been canceled by the group.

Music Parents Gift

David Hawkins Named Scholarship Recipient

David Hawkins, Beaver Local High School senior, has been named recipient of the second annual Beaver Local Music Parents scholarship.

Selection of Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hawkins of Rogers R. D. 1, was announced at a meeting of the parents' group Wednesday night at the high school.

The youth, 17, a trombone player, has been in the band for five years, won a No. 1 rating at the district instrumental contest and will take part in the state competition at Columbus April 14.

He plans to study music at Ohio State University where he is enrolled for the fall term. The $300 scholarship is presented to a ranking student who plans to study music.

The music parents also approved plans for construction of a concession stand at the athletic field, with a fund drive to be headed by Carl Mansfield. The drive will be for $1 contribution for each building block in the structure.

A nomination slate was presented for election at the next meeting May 2. The slate is headed by Mrs. Irene Mast of Bell School Rd. for president.

It was announced the planned Tag Day has been rescheduled for September, because there are no available spring dates in East Liverpool.

A program was presented by a girls' vocal ensemble which will take part in the state competition. The parents group authorized trip expenses for the group.

Mrs. Paul Dailey, president, was in charge.

Clarkson Grange To Meet Tonight

The Clarkson Grange will meet tonight at the Grange Hall with Mrs. Dorothy Davis, lecturer, in charge of the program. Reuben Lunger, master, will preside.

Miss Florence Lyons and Mrs. Helen Warrick have returned here for the summer. Miss Lyons had spent the winter with her sister, Mrs. Warrick, at Albany, N. Y.

Mrs. Gladys Lyons is a patient at Salem City Hospital, where she underwent an operation Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Elva Daiger Wolfe, former resident, is convalescing at the Youngstown North Side Hospital after an operation Monday.

President Accepts Bid To Visit Brazil

WASHINGTON (AP)—Brazilian President Joao Goulart has promised his government will make fair compensation for expropriated utility properties.

And, President Kennedy has accepted an invitation to visit Brazil sometime this year.

Those were the two major developments in two days of talks between the heads of state.

Goulart goes on to New York today.

TV Viewers Warned On Space Flight Death

CHICAGO (AP)—Television audiences must be prepared to witness death in space flight efforts, the administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration warns.

The administrator, James E. Webb, speaking Wednesday at the 40th annual convention of the National Association of Broadcasters, said men died while exploring the earth's unknown regions, and it is foolish to ignore this possibility in the far more hazardous regions of space.

Applegate 'Late' On Fund Report, Councilmen Say

If a municipal financial crisis was brewing for lack of an appropriation ordinance, Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate should have reported it at a Council meeting he attended Monday night, rather than waiting until Wednesday, two members of the Council finance committee asserted today.

The statement was made jointly by Councilmen George E. Willshaw, chairman of the finance committee, and Robert W. Sample Jr., a member.

The auditor said yesterday his office would be unable to issue checks for about $3,000 in cash relief due Tuesday for 50 clients because Council has given only two of the three required readings to the appropriation ordinance. Unless a special meeting is called in the meantime, the checks cannot be issued, he said. Applegate said he notified three councilmen of the situation.

Both Willshaw and Sample said that as far as they know the auditor made no effort to telephone them about the "crisis." Willshaw said no request has been made to him as head of the finance committee to call a special meeting. President Charles N. Edwards also said this morning he has received no request to call an extra session. The next regular meeting is April 16.

Sample and Willshaw also pointed out the auditor lacks authority to call a special session. If relief funds are short, "he should have told Council Monday night; he was there," they said.

The old custom of wooing luck at cards by sitting on a bag of flour is still observed in towns of Corsica. However, American manufacturers of flour and other baking products prefer to advertise the more practical uses of their wares. In 1960, they invested $18.6 million nationally in American daily newspapers.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Hunger Not Influenced By Food Habits

Ida Jean Kain

The practice of overeating confirms a bad habit. It is interesting to realize that hunger contractions are not influenced by our food habits. Hunger represents our need for food. Hunger is an instinct and can be satisfied by any food. Appetite, being a mental desire, is selective.

You may recall the unique appetite test one dieter gave herself. When a hankering for food at odd hours would come over her she would ask herself candidly, "Am I hungry enough to eat cold mush?" She actually kept a bowl of cold mush on hand in the refrigerator in case she needed to call her appetite-bluff.

I'VE FORGOTTEN whether or not she ever ate cold mush, but I do remember that she slimmed down. Hers was a triumphant letter.

Now back to our question regarding how to escape the clutches of habit. Try this plan. Examine your attitude toward your fattening food habits. What excuses do you make to yourself for continuing the eating pattern that keeps you overweight and out of shape?

For example: If you are a young mother and you have piled on 20, 40 or more excess pounds, do you rationalize that with all you have to do you couldn't possibly get involved with a diet? You may reason that by not dieting you are able to stay sweet tempered and patient.

Well, that is one way of thinking — now try another way. If your excess poundage is making you miserable, then on a protective plan that helps you to slim down you will feel purposeful and happy. This change in attitude can be wonderfully energizing.

A protective plan of eating to slim down will not deplete your energy. On the contrary, as you lose the excess weight, you will have more pep and endurance.

In breaking the overeating habit, you must first recognize whether you are dealing with true hunger or false appetite. Are you ever hungry enough to eat cold mush? Habit hunger is largely appetite.

There is another kind of hunger that stems from poor food habits and that is hidden hunger, which is a form of malnutrition. Nature's way of replenishing the essential nutrients is through hunger signals.

IF YOUR FOOD choices are for assorted sweets and starches, you will be overweight but poorly nourished. Humdrum hunger is false hunger that stems from boredom.

When you take a mature attitude toward food and decide in favor of changing your food habits, it is quite easy to apply nutrition science and eat to build slimness.

Send a stamped, self - addressed long envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your requests to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Prince Charles To Set An Example

Suppose you were Queen of England and had a son, 13, in line to become England's king, and wished to send him to a boarding school. What kind of a school would it be? Well, Queen Elizabeth of England and her husband, Philip, have chosen Gordonstoun of Scotland for their son, Prince Charles, 13. He will enter next May. According to a national magazine, Prince Charles, along with the 400 other boys of this school, some of them scholarship sons of dockers and fishermen, will rise daily at 7 a. m., take a cold shower and, on an empty stomach, sprint around the school grounds. He will climb cliffs, sail, chop wood and build pigsties. There will be no eating between meals.

GORDONSTOUN AIMS to give a boy "the ability to follow out what he believes to be the right course in the face of discomfort, hardships, dangers, mockery, boredom, skepticism and impulses of the moment".

This should be useful training for anyone, let alone a future king.

There are a few private schools in the United States where the children work with their hands.

But the aim is so to motivate all this laboring that the child won't think of it as required. It's hard to imagine a boy or girl, 13, choosing daily to run a good distance before breakfast.

A few weeks ago I said we should have setting - up exercises (calisthenics), which any teacher could direct, in the classroom or outdoors for all children from the first grade onward. During fit weather, why should they not be required to run certain distances around the playground even around a few blocks?

A FEW SUMMER camps require children to do some work they would rather not do, though the period of work is brief, as a rule. Most camps are run on the theory, "Everything should be fun."

To develop strong bodies and strong characters, children need to be required at school or camp to perform some exercise they would rather not perform. Incidentally, physical activity, as a rule, can more easily be required than mental activity.

Report Slated Today By April Grand Jury

LISBON — The Columbiana County Grand Jury continued on schedule this morning, and County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said the panel will report late this afternoon unless there is an unexpected delay.

The panel, which convened Tuesday, was to hear 22 witnesses in seven cases today, Prosecutor Brokaw said.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Four children suffocated Wednesday night in a fire that filled a third-floor apartment with smoke but burned only a bed.

Kennedy Asks For Federal Tax On Boats

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has proposed a federal tax on pleasure boats as one means of financing the purchase of additional land and water areas for public recreation.

Revenue measures recommended Wednesday by Kennedy in a bill he sent to Congress would bring in more than $1 billion if approved.

The Interior Department estimated that the boat tax alone would bring in about $45 million a year.

In an accompanying message Kennedy noted that Americans consider the outdoors free. "In fact, however," he wrote, "outdoor recreation programs have been supported through a combination of general revenues and special levies such as national park admissions, fishing and hunting stamps and licenses, and federal excise taxes on fishing tackle and sporting arms and ammunition."

In the bill Kennedy asked Congress to create a land conservation fund to "expand existing recreational resources to meet our present and future needs."

Egypt And Syria Relations Again Appear Strained

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Radio arguments opened up between Egypt and Syria today, barely 36 hours after the Syrian army quelled pro-Nasser mutiny in Aleppo in northern Syria.

Relations again appear strained between the two Arab nations, whose union under Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser was broken by a Syrian army coup d'etat more than six months ago.

After suppressing the pro-Nasser movement in the north, the Damascus high command declared Wednesday that unity with liberated Arab powers was one of its prime objectives. It said it expected this unity to be on a basis avoiding past errors, however, and did not specifically mention Egypt.

Cairo radio then charged Damascus authorities were breaking their pledge made at a conference with the pro-Nasser rebels.

Hunger Not Influenced By Food Habits

Ida Jean Kain

The practice of overeating confirms a bad habit. It is interesting to realize that hunger contractions are not influenced by our food habits. Hunger represents our need for food. Hunger is an instinct and can be satisfied by any food. Appetite, being a mental desire, is selective.

You may recall the unique appetite test one dieter gave herself. When a hankering for food at odd hours would come over her she would ask herself candidly, "Am I hungry enough to eat cold mush?" She actually kept a bowl of cold mush on hand in the refrigerator in case she needed to call her appetite-bluff.

I'VE FORGOTTEN whether or not she ever ate cold mush, but I do remember that she slimmed down. Hers was a triumphant letter.

Now back to our question regarding how to escape the clutches of habit. Try this plan. Examine your attitude toward your fattening food habits. What excuses do you make to yourself for continuing the eating pattern that keeps you overweight and out of shape?

For example: If you are a young mother and you have piled on 20, 40 or more excess pounds, do you rationalize that with all you have to do you couldn't possibly get involved with a diet? You may reason that by not dieting you are able to stay sweet tempered and patient.

Well, that is one way of thinking — now try another way. If your excess poundage is making you miserable, then on a protective plan that helps you to slim down you will feel purposeful and happy. This change in attitude can be wonderfully energizing.

A protective plan of eating to slim down will not deplete your energy. On the contrary, as you lose the excess weight, you will have more pep and endurance.

In breaking the overeating habit, you must first recognize whether you are dealing with true hunger or false appetite. Are you ever hungry enough to eat cold mush? Habit hunger is largely appetite.

There is another kind of hunger that stems from poor food habits and that is hidden hunger, which is a form of malnutrition. Nature's way of replenishing the essential nutrients is through hunger signals.

IF YOUR FOOD choices are for assorted sweets and starches, you will be overweight but poorly nourished. Humdrum hunger is false hunger that stems from boredom.

When you take a mature attitude toward food and decide in favor of changing your food habits, it is quite easy to apply nutrition science and eat to build slimness.

Send a stamped, self - addressed long envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your requests to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Prince Charles To Set An Example

Suppose you were Queen of England and had a son, 13, in line to become England's king, and wished to send him to a boarding school. What kind of a school would it be? Well, Queen Elizabeth of England and her husband, Philip, have chosen Gordonstoun of Scotland for their son, Prince Charles, 13. He will enter next May. According to a national magazine, Prince Charles, along with the 400 other boys of this school, some of them scholarship sons of dockers and fishermen, will rise daily at 7 a. m., take a cold shower and, on an empty stomach, sprint around the school grounds. He will climb cliffs, sail, chop wood and build pigsties. There will be no eating between meals.

GORDONSTOUN AIMS to give a boy "the ability to follow out what he believes to be the right course in the face of discomfort, hardships, dangers, mockery, boredom, skepticism and impulses of the moment".

This should be useful training for anyone, let alone a future king.

There are a few private schools in the United States where the children work with their hands.

But the aim is so to motivate all this laboring that the child won't think of it as required. It's hard to imagine a boy or girl, 13, choosing daily to run a good distance before breakfast.

A few weeks ago I said we should have setting - up exercises (calisthenics), which any teacher could direct, in the classroom or outdoors for all children from the first grade onward. During fit weather, why should they not be required to run certain distances around the playground even around a few blocks?

A FEW SUMMER camps require children to do some work they would rather not do, though the period of work is brief, as a rule. Most camps are run on the theory, "Everything should be fun."

To develop strong bodies and strong characters, children need to be required at school or camp to perform some exercise they would rather not perform. Incidentally, physical activity, as a rule, can more easily be required than mental activity.

Record Field Of 110 Tees Off In Masters Golf Tourney

Palmer 3-1 Favorite To Win Classic

By MERCER BAILEY

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The largest field in history—and one of the strongest—sets out today over the beautiful but deceptive Augusta National Golf Course in quest of the 1962 Masters Golf Championship.

Almost everyone who is anyone in the game of golf, headed by golden boy Arnold Palmer, is among the record 110 competitors. The pairings include such current stars as:

Gary Player, the defending champion from South Africa and only foreigner ever to win this storied event; Bill Casper, the rotund Californian whose power and putting combined are what the doctor ordered for mastering the long—6,990 yards par 36-36—72 — Augusta National with its mammoth, multilevel greens; Doug Sanders of Cedartown, Ga., who usually has a fistful of long green when the prize money is passed out; and Jack Nicklaus, 21, a powerful Ohioan who won the National Amateur crown last fall and then decided to turn his tremendous game into a money-maker.

Palmer in the past four years has won this tournament twice and twice missed by a total of only three strokes.

An Augusta oddsmaker has installed Palmer as a 3-1 favorite, quite a tribute to the strongman from Latrobe, Pa., for even in his heyday the odds on Ben Hogan seldom were shorter than 6-1.

Although the once-feared Texas Hawk will be 50 in August, Hogan is rated a respectable 10-1 for this Masters despite his semiretirement from competitive golf.

Small College Coach Of Year

Westminster's 'Buzz' Ridl To Speak At ELHS Banquet

The "coach of the year" in small college basketball this season and the coach of the number one small college team in the nation named by the United Press International and The Associated Press will be guest speaker at the annual East Liverpool High School basketball banquet, honoring the 1961-62 squad, April 23.

He is C. G. "Buzz" Ridl of Westminster College, who since taking over as head basketball coach at the New Wilmington, Pa., school has compiled an impressive record of 116 wins against only 42 defeats.

BUZZ RIDL
Top Small College Coach.

RIDL was honored as coach of the year this season by the NAIA.

A graduate of Westminster, he returned to his alma mater in 1949 and since then has become one of the most popular and respected coaches in the East.

During the last four years his teams have made the NAIA playoffs in Kansas City by winning the Pennsylvania playoffs.

In 1960 and 1962 his teams finished as runners-up in the NAIA tourneys and in 1961 the Titans finished fourth among the 32 NAIA teams in the nation.

BOTH his 1960 and 1962 teams won the West Penn Conference titles and state championships, but lost in the NAIA finals to Southwest Texas and Prairie View A & M, respectviely. In 1960, the Titans upset powerful Tennessee A & I, 39-38, and in 1962 the biggest win was a 63-61 decision over Duquesne, nationally-ranked major college team.

Ridl, who served as a captain in the Army, earned his bachelor of arts degree at Westminster in 1942 after an enviable record as a student and athlete. He was a starter on Westminster's famous 1940-41 team which played in the National Invitational Tourney in New York City. Ridl was one of the leading scorers on that team.

Returning to Westminster in 1949, he served as assistant coach under Grover C. Washabaugh, his former coach. Ridl also is head baseball coach and assistant football coach.

'Buzz' Ridl To Speak At United Cage Fete

Charles "Buzz" Ridl, head basketball coach at Westminster, also will speak at the United High School cage banquet April 24 at Hanoverton. The dinner will be held in the school cafeteria and special awards will be made by the Boosters Club. Reservations must be completed by April 17 by calling Frank Solak, principal of United High.

Billy McGill Finishes With 38.8 Average

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy (the Hill) McGill, 6-9 Utah All-America was certified today as the scoring champion of major college basketball for the 1961-62 season.

McGill, first national scoring champion from the Skyline Conference, finished with 1,009 points in 26 games for a 38.8 average, according to statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau.

McGill had a clear edge over the runner-up, Jack Foley of Holy Cross, who had a 33.3 average with 866 points in 26 games.

Jerry Lucas, three-time All-America from Ohio State, became the first major collegian ever to gain five national titles in a collegiate career. Lucas, who scored for a 21.8 average, led the nation for the third straight year in field goal percentage with .611, and wound up the No. 1 rebounder for the second time, with a .211 percent of recoveries.

On the team level, Chicago Loyola won the team offense title with a 90.2 average to 90.1 for Arizona State U. and Santa Clara led in team defense with 52.1.

'Jackpot Bowling' Set In Cats & Dogs Loop

"Jackpot Bowling" will be held Sunday night at 7 for Cats and Dogs League bowlers, Ann Creaturo, secretary, announced. The League's banquet has been set for May 12 at Freed's.

Pipers Win To Keep ABL Title Hopes Alive

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Pipers, who have faced sudden death in three of their last five games, are still alive today in their try for the American Basketball League's championship.

Cleveland came from behind in the final quarter Wednesday night to whip the Kansas City Steers 116-114. Now the Pipers go into another contest Saturday night under the familiar sudden-death conditions, because the Steers won the first two games in the best - of - five series earlier this week at Kansas City.

Bears' Quarterback Traded To Steelers

CHICAGO (AP) — If there were any question that Bill Wade is the Chicago Bears No. 1 quarterback, it has been settled. The only other possible claimant to that title, Ed Brown, has been traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Brown, former University of San Francisco star, went to the Steelers Wednesday for that club's No. 1 draft choice next fall and a player to be named later.

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — National League expansion to ten teams and Los Angeles' move to a home park more suited to its talents should combine to bring a pennant to Walter Alston's Dodgers.

It figures to be another typically tight National League race, with at least four clubs hurling challenges at the Dodgers. San Francisco has the most power, St. Louis the strongest pitching, Milwaukee the best infield and Cincinnati the confidence of a defending champion.

The Dodgers lack one commodity to break the race wide open. They can't match the power of their rivals, excepting St. Louis, but they have better overall personnel, pitching, speed and defense than any other club.

The Giants, who could take it all if they get the pitching, probably will present the most formidable opposition to the Dodgers. The Reds still are a strong threat despite the loss of Gene Freese, the hard-hitting third baseman, with a leg fracture.

The Braves, short of front-line pitching despite the presence of the durable Warren Spahn - Lew Burdette duo; and the Cards, relying on oldsters Stan Musial and Minnie Minoso to supply much of the power, appear slated to battle it out for fourth place.

Pittsburgh, still uncertain of the availability of sore - armed Vern Lawn, their former pitching ace, seems doomed to finish at the top of the second division. A four-team scramble is envisioned for the seventh spot.

The predicted finish:

1. Los Angeles
2. San Francisco
3. Cincinnati
4. Milwaukee
5. St. Louis
6. Pittsburgh
7. Chicago
8. Houston
9. New York
10. Philadelphia

Guys & Dolls League Sets 2nd Half Rolloff

The roll-off, to determine the second half winner in the Guys and Dolls Bowling League, will be held Saturday at 9 p. m. at the Headpin Alleys between the Phillies and the Cardinals. The winner of the match will then roll the Giants, first half champions, for the league crown. The league will roll its singles and doubles Sunday at 7 p.m.

Wellsville Track Coach Predicts Average Season

Wellsville High Coach Ken Woods today forecast an "average" year for the Tiger track squad after an 81½-41½ victory over Beaver Local in a practice meet Tuesday at Nicholson Stadium.

Woods is drilling 39 squadmen for the first meet April 10 at 4:30 p. m. at Salem with 10 returning lettermen in the fold.

Only three seniors are on he squad. They are Larry Giles, 440-yard runner, Frank Luckino, who runs the high hurdles, and John Euill, also a hurdler and a dash man. A fourth senior, shotputter Alvin Jackson, became ineligible when he performed in a basketball tournament last week.

Woods reports the squad lists plenty of sophomores and freshmen without experience and adds he expects only an "average" season. Missing through graduation are high jumper Bob Kiggans, Bill Hickman, who ran the dashes, plus the regular pole vaulter of last season.

Versatile Mark Leyda is back again for another year and will perform in the 100 yard dash, low hurdles and broad jump. Jim Reed will also run the "century," plus the 220-yard dash.

Euill will also anchor the 880-yard relay team and run in the 440-yard event. Eric Wilson, a junior, has been working as a miler and half - miler.

In th efield events, Woods lists Leo Pearson for the discus, Andy Dash for the shotput, and Terry Flesch for the high jump.

The Tigers won five, lost three in dual competition last year. Woods is being assisted by Coach Jim Criss. The 1962 schedule follows:

April 10 at Salem, 4:30
April 12 United, 4:30
April 14 at Toronto, 5:30
April 17 at East Palestine, 4:30
April 20 Jefferson Union, 4:30
April 21 OVAC at Steubenville, 1:00
April 24 Beaver Local, 4:30
April 27 East Liverpool, 4:30
May 1 at East Liverpool, 4:30
May 3 Toronto Invitational, 5:30
May 11 county meet, 2:00
May 18 district meet, 2:00

262 Players Register For South Side League

The South Side Hot Stove League, with 262 boys signed up already, will start its season June 5 and end it Aug. 5, Daniel Wright, secretary of the South Side Athletic Club, reported after a meeting Tuesday night.

There are 13 teams. There were 196 boys in the league last year.

This year the 8-12 age group will play an 18-game schedule and the 13-15 age group 15. The committee in charge of scheduling will be John Miles of Georgetown, assisted by Charles Wright of Hookstown.

It was reported that the club has purchased complete group insurance coverage from the Nationwide Insurance Co. for the 13 teams at a cost of $288.40. Boys in both age groups will be covered from the first scheduled practice until the end of the playing season, including tournament play.

The new Newell team will be known as the Newell Cubs. The 13-15 group will be managed by Sonny Stephens and coached by Buck McNicol and the 8-12 group will be managed by Earl Kiger and coached by John Kiger and Bill Watson.

Other managers and coaches include: Hookstown — Joe Campbell, 13-15, and Francis Doak, 8-12, both managers; Georgetown—Ellsworth Mackall, 13-15, and Bob Campbell, 8-12, both managers.

Frankfort Springs — Norman Patton, manager, Robert Hall and Stanley Zdybicki, coaches, 13-15, and Harry Spence, manager, and Warren Spence and Raymond Stephens, coaches, 8-12.

Shippingport, Lawrenceville and Hanover Township have yet to name their managers and coaches.

Charles Ryland, baseball commissioner, said passes have been obtained for managers and coaches to go to Forbes Field April 24 to receive instruction from Manager Danny Murtaugh, Rex Bowen, who is in charge of scouting, and players of the Pittsburgh Pirates. The meeting will be at 10:30 a. m.

Ryland reported umpire training meetings will be held May 6 and May 13 at 2 p. m. in the Legion Hall near Hookstown. They will feature baseball films and speakers to help instruct umpires, managers and coaches.

He reported that all boundaries for the districts have been outlined. John Nash, treasurer, reported a balance of $469.87 after bills were paid.

Jack McCarrell reported yearbooks will be available April 27. Paul Verzella, vice president, presided. The next meeting will be April 17.

Ex-Vice President Attacks Pro Boxing

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Former vice president Richard M. Nixon says professional boxing should be "cleaned up or kicked out, one or the other."

Nixon, seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination in California, told a news conference Wednesday that the sport in California is clean. He said if he becomes governor he would not recommend its abolition.

Kid Paret's Body To Be Flown To Miami For Rites

NEW YORK (AP) — The body of former welterweight boxing champion Benny (Kid) Paret is scheduled to be flown to Miami tonight for funeral services and burial near his adopted home.

More than 17,000 persons viewed the body at a Bronx funeral home Wednesday and police estimated nearly 2,500 persons were either inside the home, waiting in line or loitering nearby.

Earlier in the day Paret's widow, Lucy, learned from the New York State Athletic Commission that she will collect some $28,000 before taxes as Paret's share of the $50,000 purse from the Griffith fight.

O'Dea Dies 1 Day After Hall Of Fame Selection

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patrick John O'Dea, Wisconsin's famed punter and drop kicker at the turn of the century, died Wednesday just one day after it was announced he had been elected to Football's Hall of Fame.

Ninety years old last St. Patrick's Day, March 17, O'Dea received a personal letter of commendation from President Kennedy.

Records show he could punt the length of the field, 110 yards, and drop kick accurately into the teeth of a blizzard.

But a fact known to few sportswriters was the sensation created in 1934 when O'Dea was discovered in the northern California lumbering community of Westwood after a disappearance of 17 years.

It was Bill Leiser, sports editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, who revealed O'Dea's new life as a lumber company accountant in Westwood under the name of Charles J. Mitchell.

O'Dea had come to San Francisco in 1906 and practiced law. He was supposed to have joined an Australian army unit passing through San Francisco in 1917. Instead, he told Leiser, he quietly went to Westwood and became an accountant for the Red River Lumber Company.

Why?

"He said he couldn't afford to go on being a famous ex-athlete," Leiser recalled. "He didn't like living in what were to him mere student days of the past."

Death at the University of California Medical Center followed a lengthy illness. Friends said that knowledge of his selection to the hall of fame had brightened his final days.

O'Dea was born in Australia. He attended Melbourne University and established a reputation as a great back before coming to the United States.

After enrolling at Wisconsin, he played fullback and halfback on the Badger teams of 1896 to 1899. He was captain the last two years and was named to Walter Camp's second All America in 1898 and to the third team in 1899.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Tom Ireland, three grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren.

McElroy's Suit Against OHSAA Gains Dismissal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has complied with Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy's request and dismissed his suit aimed at breaking up the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

The high court made the dismissal Wednesday. McElroy had said he would ask such action after the court on March 21 ordered Stark County Common Pleas Court not to interfere with the OHSAA one-year football suspension of Canton McKinley High School.

The Supreme Court said the dismissal o fthe attorney general's "quo warranto" action was made at his expense, without prejudice.

The March decision was that public school boards have the right to approve membership in the association and to abide by its control over interscholastic athletics.

Palmer 3-1 Favorite To Win Classic

By MERCER BAILEY

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The largest field in history—and one of the strongest—sets out today over the beautiful but deceptive Augusta National Golf Course in quest of the 1962 Masters Golf Championship.

Almost everyone who is anyone in the game of golf, headed by golden boy Arnold Palmer, is among the record 110 competitors. The pairings include such current stars as:

Gary Player, the defending champion from South Africa and only foreigner ever to win this storied event; Bill Casper, the rotund Californian whose power and putting combined are what the doctor ordered for mastering the long—6,990 yards par 36-36—72 — Augusta National with its mammoth, multilevel greens; Doug Sanders of Cedartown, Ga., who usually has a fistful of long green when the prize money is passed out; and Jack Nicklaus, 21, a powerful Ohioan who won the National Amateur crown last fall and then decided to turn his tremendous game into a moneymaker.

Palmer in the past four years has won this tournament twice and twice missed by a total of only three strokes.

An Augusta oddsmaker has installed Palmer as a 3-1 favorite, quite a tribute to the strongman from Latrobe, Pa., for even in his heyday the odds on Ben Hogan seldom were shorter than 6-1.

Although the once-feared Texas Hawk will be 50 in August, Hogan is rated a respectable 10-1 for this Masters despite his semiretirement from competitive golf.

Billy McGill Finishes With 38.8 Average

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy (the Hill) McGill, 6-9 Utah All-America was certified today as the scoring champion of major college basketball for the 1961-62 season.

McGill, first national scoring champion from the Skyline Conference, finished with 1,009 points in 26 games for a 38.8 average, according to statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau.

McGill had a clear edge over the runner-up, Jack Foley of Holy Cross, who had a 33.3 average with 866 points in 26 games.

Jerry Lucas, three-time All-America from Ohio State, became the first major collegian ever to gain five national titles in a collegiate career. Lucas, who scored for a 21.8 average, led the nation for the third straight year in field goal percentage with .611, and wound up the No. 1 rebounder for the second time, with a .211 percent of recoveries.

On the team level, Chicago Loyola won the team offense title with a 90.2 average to 90.1 for Arizona State U. and Santa Clara led in team defense with 52.1.

Pipers Win To Keep ABL Title Hopes Alive

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Pipers, who have faced sudden death in three of their last five games, are still alive today in their try for the American Basketball League's championship.

Cleveland came from behind in the final quarter Wednesday night to whip the Kansas City Steers 116-114. Now the Pipers go into another contest Saturday night under the familiar sudden-death conditions, because the Steers won the first two games in the best - of - five series earlier this week at Kansas City.

Bears' Quarterback Traded To Steelers

CHICAGO (AP) — If there were any question that Bill Wade is the Chicago Bears No. 1 quarterback, it has been settled. The only other possible claimant to that title, Ed Brown, has been traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Brown, former University of San Francisco star, went to the Steelers Wednesday for that club's No. 1 draft choice next fall and a player to be named later.

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — National League expansion to ten teams and Los Angeles' move to a home park more suited to its talents should combine to bring a pennant to Walter Alston's Dodgers.

It figures to be another typically tight National League race, with at least four clubs hurling challenges at the Dodgers. San Francisco has the most power, St. Louis the strongest pitching, Milwaukee the best infield and Cincinnati the confidence of a defending champion.

The Dodgers lack one commodity to break the race wide open. They can't match the power of their rivals, excepting St. Louis, but they have better overall personnel, pitching, speed and defense than any other club.

The Giants, who could take it all if they get the pitching, probably will present the most formidable opposition to the Dodgers. The Reds still are a strong threat despite the loss of Gene Freese, the hard-hitting third baseman, with a leg fracture.

The Braves, short of front-line pitching despite the presence of the durable Warren Spahn - Lew Burdette duo; and the Cards, relying on oldsters Stan Musial and Minnie Minoso to supply much of the power, appear slated to battle it out for fourth place.

Pittsburgh, still uncertain of the availability of sore - armed Vern Lawn, their former pitching ace, seems doomed to finish at the top of the second division. A four-team scramble is envisioned for the seventh spot.

The predicted finish:

1. Los Angeles
2. San Francisco
3. Cincinnati
4. Milwaukee
5. St. Louis
6. Pittsburgh
7. Chicago
8. Houston
9. New York
10. Philadelphia

Wellsville Track Coach Predicts Average Season

Wellsville High Coach Ken Woods today forecast an "average" year for the Tiger track squad after an 81½-41½ victory over Beaver Local in a practice meet Tuesday at Nicholson Stadium.

Woods is drilling 39 squadmen for the first meet April 10 at 4:30 p. m. at Salem with 10 returning lettermen in the fold.

Only three seniors are on he squad. They are Larry Giles, 440-yard runner, Frank Luckino, who runs the high hurdles, and John Euill, also a hurdler and a dash man. A fourth senior, shotputter Alvin Jackson, became ineligible when he performed in a basketball tournament last week.

Woods reports the squad lists plenty of sophomores and freshmen without experience and adds he expects only an "average" season. Missing through graduation are high jumper Bob Kiggans, Bill Hickman, who ran the dashes, plus the regular pole vaulter of last season.

Versatile Mark Leyda is back again for another year and will perform in the 100 yard dash, low hurdles and broad jump. Jim Reed will also run the "century," plus the 220-yard dash.

Euill will also anchor the 880-yard relay team and run in the 440-yard event. Eric Wilson, a junior, has been working as a miler and half - miler.

In th efield events, Woods lists Leo Pearson for the discus, Andy Dash for the shotput, and Terry Flesch for the high jump.

The Tigers won five, lost three in dual competition last year. Woods is being assisted by Coach Jim Criss. The 1962 schedule follows:

April 10 at Salem, 4:30
April 12 United, 4:30
April 14 at Toronto, 5:30
April 17 at East Palestine, 4:30
April 20 Jefferson Union, 4:30
April 21 OVAC at Steubenville, 1:00
April 24 Beaver Local, 4:30
April 27 East Liverpool, 4:30
May 1 at East Liverpool, 4:30
May 3 Toronto Invitational, 5:30
May 11 county meet, 2:00

Small College Coach Of Year

Westminster's 'Buzz' Ridl To Speak At ELHS Banquet

The "coach of the year" in small college basketball this season and the coach of the number one small college team in the nation named by the United Press International and The Associated Press will be guest speaker at the annual East Liverpool High School basketball banquet, honoring the 1961-62 squad, April 23.

He is C. G. "Buzz" Ridl of Westminster College, who since taking over as head basketball coach at the New Wilmington, Pa., school has compiled an impressive record of 116 wins against only 42 defeats.

BUZZ RIDL
Top Small College Coach.

A graduate of Westminster, he returned to his alma mater in 1949 and since then has become one of the most popular and respected coaches in the East.

During the last four years his teams have made the NAIA playoffs in Kansas City by winning the Pennsylvania playoffs.

In 1960 and 1962 his teams finished as runners-up in the NAIA tourneys and in 1961 the Titans finished fourth among the 32 NAIA teams in the nation.

BOTH his 1960 and 1962 teams won the West Penn Conference titles and state championships, but lost in the NAIA finals to Southwest Texas and Prairie View A & M, respectviely. In 1960, the Titans upset powerful Tennessee A & I, 39-38, and in 1962 the biggest win was a 63-61 decision over Duquesne, nationally-ranked major college team.

Ridl, who served as a captain in the Army, earned his bachelor of arts degree at Westminster in 1942 after an enviable record as a student and athlete. He was a starter on Westminster's famous 1940-41 team which played in the National Invitational Tourney in New York City. Ridl was one of the leading scorers on that team.

Returning to Westminster in 1949, he served as assistant coach under Grover C. Washabaugh, his former coach. Ridl also is head baseball coach and assistant football coach.

'Buzz' Ridl To Speak At United Cage Fete

Charles "Buzz" Ridl, head basketball coach at Westminster, also will speak at the United High School cage banquet April 24 at Hanoverton. The dinner will be held in the school cafeteria and special awards will be made by the Boosters Club. Reservations must be completed by April 17 by calling Frank Solak, principal of United High.

262 Players Register For South Side League

The South Side Hot Stove League, with 262 boys signed up already, will start its season June 5 and end it Aug. 5, Daniel Wright, secretary of the South Side Athletic Club, reported after a meeting Tuesday night.

There are 13 teams. There were 196 boys in the league last year.

This year the 8-12 age group will play an 18-game schedule and the 13-15 age group 15. The committee in charge of scheduling will be John Miles of Georgetown, assisted by Charles Wright of Hookstown.

It was reported that the club has purchased complete group insurance coverage from the Nationwide Insurance Co. for the 13 teams at a cost of $288.40. Boys in both age groups will be covered from the first scheduled practice until the end of the playing season, including tournament play.

The new Newell team will be known as the Newell Cubs. The 13-15 group will be managed by Sonny Stephens and coached by Buck McNicol and the 8-12 group will be managed by Earl Kiger and coached by John Kiger and Bill Watson.

Other managers and coaches include: Hookstown — Joe Campbell, 13-15, and Francis Doak, 8-12, both managers; Georgetown—Ellsworth Mackall, 13-15, and Bob Campbell, 8-12, both managers.

Frankfort Springs — Norman Patton, manager, Robert Hall and Stanley Zdybicki, coaches, 13-15, and Harry Spence, manager, and Warren Spence and Raymond Stephens, coaches, 8-12.

Shippingport, Lawrenceville and Hanover Township have yet to name their managers and coaches.

Charles Ryland, baseball commissioner, said passes have been obtained for managers and coaches to go to Forbes Field April 24 to receive instruction from Manager Danny Murtaugh, Rex Bowen, who is in charge of scouting, and players of the Pittsburgh Pirates. The meeting will be at 10:30 a. m.

Ryland reported umpire training meetings will be held May 6 and May 13 at 2 p. m. in the Legion Hall near Hookstown. They will feature baseball films and speakers to help instruct umpires, managers and coaches.

He reported that all boundaries for the districts have been outlined. John Nash, treasurer, reported a balance of $469.87 after bills were paid.

Jack McCarrell reported yearbooks will be available April 27. Paul Verzella, vice president, presided. The next meeting will be April 17.

Ex-Vice President Attacks Pro Boxing

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Former vice president Richard M. Nixon says professional boxing should be "cleaned up or kicked out, one or the other."

Nixon, seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination in California, told a news conference Wednesday that the sport in California is clean. He said if he becomes governor he would not recommend its abolition.

Broglio Flashes '60 Form Much To Pleasure Of Keane

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ernie Broglio, plagued by arm trouble last year after winning 21 games in the 1960 baseball campaign, has pushed the St. Louis Cardinals' rising pennant stock up another couple of points with his strongest pitching performance of the exhibition season.

The 26-year-old right-hander, taking a giant step along the comeback trail, fired 'em up Wednesday, flashing his 1960 form as he went seven innings and scattered six hits in the Cardinals 7-5 victory over Philadelphia at Clearwater.

Now he's got Manager Johnny Keane hoping a winter's rest has taken care of the problems and put him in shape to take his place alongside Larry Jackson, Ray Sadecki, Bob Gibson, Curt Simmons and newcomer Ray Washburn as a starter for the pitching rich Cardinals.

In other fine pitching efforts, Ed Rakow went the distance for Kansas City to beat Cincinnati 3-1 at Tampa, Minnesota's Jack Kralick and Dick Stigman shut out Baltimore 5-0 with a six-hitter and Pittsburgh rookies Bob Veale, Jack Lamabe and Diomedes Olivo stopped Washington 2-0 on two hits at Fort Myers.

Meanwhile, the hitters lashed out as Houston thumped the Los Angeles Angels 20-5 at El Paso and San Francisco walloped Cleveland 18-17 in 11 innings at Phoenix for an amazing total of 60 runs and 74 hits in the two games.

Elsewhere, the New York Yankees edged Detroit 2-1 at Lakeland, Milwaukee defeated Boston 9-2 at Scottsdale, the Chicago Cubs nipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-5 at Mesa and the New York Mets beat the Chicago White Sox 6-4 at St. Petersburg.

Rakow checked the Reds on eight hits while batterymate Haywood Sullivan gave the A's the runs they needed with a two-run homer off Joey Jay. The Twins used five walks, a two-run double by Bob Allison and Jim Snyder's two-run single for five in the eighth off Jim Lehew after the Orioles' Steve Barber had hurled four-hit ball for seven innings.

Home runs by Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda, Bob Perry, Manuel Mota and Jim Davenport paced the Giants' 25-hit outburst but it took a single by Matty Alou to drive in the winner in the 11th. Willie Kirkland hit two homers in the Indians 20-hit offensive. Home runs by Tom Tresh and Elston Howard off the Tigers' Phil Regan got the job done for the Yankees.

'Harder To Battle Course Than Man,' Jones Says

"I used to lose 10 to 15 pounds every time I played in an open championship," the Grand Slam king from Atlanta recalled today. "I could compete in the match-play amateur tournaments and never lose an ounce.

"In match play golf, where it's man against man, there are plenty of opportunities to relax and blow off steam. In the stroke-play opens, where it's man against the course, one loose shot can cost you the title.

"I guess I worried off the pounds when I played in the opens."

Jones, who swept to 13 British and U.S. national championships before his retirement at the age of 28, said the pressure built up tremendously in 1930 when he scored the game's unparalleled Grand Slam—winning the U.S. Open and Amateur and the British Open and Amateur in 12 months.

"It was the waiting and not the tournament themselves which got me," Jones added. "This was the most exasperating feature of it. You see, I had to wait from July to September between the British and the U.S. Amateur."

Crippled by a spinal ailment and partially paralyzed, Jones can no longer swing a club. He watches the game's new breed pass by from a wheelchair on the porch of his white cottage, alongside the 10th fairway at Augusta National. Occasionally, he wanders out on the course in an electric cart.

Shoemaker Is New King Of Jockeys After Arcaro

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It may be up to old Johnny Longden to determine just how long Willie Shoemaker, the crown prince of jockeys, occupies the throne abdicated by Eddie Arcaro.

"I plan to retire when I'm about 35, unless Longden is still riding," the 30-year old Shoemaker said today. Longden is now 55, and still riding.

"He was riding before I was born, and darned if I'm going to let him outlast me," the Shoe said.

He immediately latched on to two of the big horses in racing, the Bohemia Stables' Kelso and George D. Widener's Jaipur. Both were the private property of Arcaro, who retired as the greatest money winning jockey of all time after more than 30 years of racing.

Shoemaker's credentials as the new No. 1 man are impressive. He rose to stardom faster than any rider in American history.

Arcaro retired after riding winners worth $30,039,543. Shoemaker's horses had collected $24,466,798 through 1961. Through 1961, Shoemaker rode 4,199 winners, third behind Arcaro's 4,779 and Longden's 5,500-plus.

WILLIE SHOEMAKER
Successor To Arcaro.

Shoemaker, a native of Fabens, Tex., who was raised in El Monte, Calif., rode his first winner, Shafter V., at Golden Gate Fields, Calif., April 20, 1949. Seven years later he rode his 2,500th winner, the fastest ever to hit that figure.

Kent State Aide Named Steubenville Cage Coach

STEUBENVILLE — John D. Bayer, assistant basketball coach at Kent State University, today signed a contract to become head court coach at The College of Steubenville for the 1962-63 season.

The announcement was made by the Rev. Kevin R. Keelan, who said the Faculty Committee on Athletics had reviewed numerous applications, for the vacancy.

Bayer succeeds Wayne H. Smith, a Steubenville graduate, who had been at the helm for the past two years. He resigned shortly after the first of the year because of pressing personal commitments. He is an engineer by profession.

A former back court star at the College, Smith's team amassed a record of 30-20 during his tenure. Each year his team earned a berth in the NAIA state playoffs. The Barons won in 1961 and went to the national finals in Kansas City. This year an unseasonable blizzard, which struck on the day the team was to depart, kept them from the playoffs.

Bayer learned his high school basketball at Farrell, Pa., under Coach Edward McCluskey, whose teams have been a perennial power in Western Pennsylvania basketball. His team has been in the state finals three times in the last six years.

The new Baron coach was a forward on the Farrell team for three years, and upon graduation enrolled at Kent State, where he was a member of the varsity team for three years. He returned to Farrell as assistant basketball coach and instructor in speech following his graduation from Kent State.

Runaway Rig Hits Dwelling

WEIRTON — A Pennsylvania trucker narrowly escaped death and damage was estimated at more than $20,000 when his loaded tractor - trailer rig hurtled some 20 feet into the air and struck a brick home at the foot of the steep Cove Hill Rd. Wednesday night.

Daniel Durkit, 25, of Glendale, Pa., is in "satisfactory" condition at Weirton General Hospital with a possible concussion, fractured ribs and abrasions in the crash in which he was pinned in the cab.

Police said Durkit was driving the outfit owned by Conley Motor Express Co. of Pittsburgh and loaded with steel strappings when he lost control while descending the steep grade and attempting to negotiate a sharp right turn.

The rig struck a four-foot embankment, which threw it into the air and up against the home occupied by Ivan C. Kinder, Weirton officers said.

The truck apparently bounced about 20 feet into the air, officers said, explaining tire marks were visible on the brick wall near the upstairs windows.

The porch of the home was damaged but there was no visible damage to the brick wall, police said. The tractor - trailer was demolished.

George Bayer, born Sept. 17, 1925, in Bremerton, Wash., is the Babe Ruth of golf, hitting the ball the farthest of the pros. He once hit a spectator standing near the green, 476 yards from the tee.

Dupas Claims Paret's Death Public's Fault

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "It's the people all around who are to blame—the public. That's who I blame—the public."

That's the comment of Ralph Dupas, No. 1 ranked welterweight boxer, on the death of former welter titlist Benny (Kid) Paret, who died Tuesday from injuries received in his March 24 fight with Emile Griffith.

"People are blaming the referee and the manager for not stopping the fight," Dupas said. "But you didn't hear anybody at ringside yelling to stop the fight."

The 26-year-old veteran New Orleans fighter said public demand for sluggers has made managers turn fighters into punchers rather than boxers.

Midland Nine Bows 10-6 To Beaver Falls

After wiping out a four-run defecit, the Midland Leopard nine fell victim to a six-run outburst in the sixth inning by the Beaver Falls Tigers and dropped their second consecutive exhibition game of the season, 10-6, Wednesday afternoon at Midland.

The Tigers pushed across three runs in the first inning off Midland starter, Bill Doyle. Doyle was having his troubles finding the plate and he walked two batters, hit one, and gave up a triple and a single as the Tigers jumped off to a quick lead.

In the third inning Doyle passed four batters and Beaver Falls moved out to a 4-0 lead.

Beaver Falls' starting pitcher, Bob Kiester, handcuffed Midland batters the first three innings, letting only one Leopard reach base when he walked Tom Troup with two out in the bottom half of the third inning.

John Fields took over the pitching chores for the Tigers in the fourth inning and the Leopards wasted no time battering him around for three runs. The big blow was struck by Pete Cilli, Leopard first - sacker, who streaked a line drive double to right - center driving across two runs.

Fields was only able to retire one man and he was replaced by Curt Herzberger, who immediately retired the side. But in the fifth frame Herzberger wasn't able to retire any one of the five batters he faced, giving up three singles and two bases on balls.

Tom Berovich, who relieved Doyle in the fifth inning, ran into the Tiger barrage in the sixth frame and was charged with the loss.

With the sacks full and two men out, Tiger left fielder, Bill Holland, hit a sharp grounder to Leopard shortstop Sam Zigerelli who could not get the ball out of his glove and his throw to first was late. This opened the gates for the Tigers who pushed across four unearned runs to put the victory away.

Friday night afternoon the Leopards will travel to Beaver for a return match with the Bobcats.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Hal Ewing of Philadelphia left the five pin standing on the last ball in the final frame and thus missed a strike that would have given him the regular singles lead in the American Bowling Congress tournament Wednesday.

Ewing, 35, an advertising salesman, had to settle for second place with a 719 total behind Andy Renaldy of Youngstown, Ohio, whose 720 total has stood since March 19.

John Payne of Tulsa, Okla., claimed second place in the regular all-events with a nine-game total of 1970.

Ewing's singles series was scored on games of 267, 215 and 237. Just before he had shot a hopeless 493 in the regular doubles.

Governors' Objections Loom

Congressmen Rap Army Plan To Junk Divisions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressmen opened fire today on the Army's controversial plan to break up eight battle-scarred National Guard and Reserve infantry divisions.

Meanwhile, the Army braced for a salvo of objections from another flank—governors of some of the 21 states affected.

Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., predicted the plan would touch off a major battle in Congress. He said it was another example of the administration's "flaunting the will of the Congress."

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said he hoped Congress would be able to prevent the action, which the Army announced late Wednesday as part of a major reorganization scheme designed to build a trim, trained and ready-to-fight Reserve and Guard.

The plan contemplates reorganizing much of the manpower in the four Guard and four Reserve divisions into eight more flexible brigades of between 3,000 and 4,500 men each. Many units now part of the divisions would be assigned to support the regular Army, if needed.

Although the Army avoided the term "eliminate," officers acknowledged that would be the practical effect. All that would be left would be their headquarters, which would supervise certain training and support operations.

The eight divisions—some with histories dating back to the Revolution and most with many battle streamers:

Guard—34th Division of Nebraska and Iowa; 35th of Kansas and Missouri; 43rd of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Vermont; 41st of Florida and South Carolina.

Reserve—79th of Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware; 94th of Massachusetts; 96th of Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Washington and Nevada; 103rd of Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

At the same time, the Army plans a six-division force of priority National Guard divisions that would be ticketed for early call-up in an emergency to back up the 16 regular Army divisions.

These first-ranked outfits would be kept at 75 to 80 per cent of their authorized strength, which will total about 15,000 when their structure is revamped. Most of them now number only about 9,000 men.

Broglio Flashes '60 Form Much To Pleasure Of Keane

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ernie Broglio, plagued by arm trouble last year after winning 21 games in the 1960 baseball campaign, has pushed the St. Louis Cardinals' rising pennant stock up another couple of points with his strongest pitching performance of the exhibition season.

The 26-year-old right-hander, taking a giant step along the comeback trail, fired 'em up Wednesday, flashing his 1960 form as he went seven innings and scattered six hits in the Cardinals 7-5 victory over Philadelphia at Clearwater.

Now he's got Manager Johnny Keane hoping a winter's rest has taken care of the problems and put him in shape to take his place alongside Larry Jackson, Ray Sadecki, Bob Gibson, Curt Simmons and newcomer Ray Washburn as a starter for the pitching rich Cardinals.

In other fine pitching efforts, Ed Rakow went the distance for Kansas City to beat Cincinnati 3-1 at Tampa, Minnesota's Jack Kralick and Dick Stigman shut out Baltimore 5-0 with a six-hitter and Pittsburgh rookies Bob Veale, Jack Lamabe and Diomedes Olivo stopped Washington 2-0 on two hits at Fort Myers.

Meanwhile, the hitters lashed out as Houston thumped the Los Angeles Angels 20-5 at El Paso and San Francisco walloped Cleveland 18-17 in 11 innings at Phoenix for an amazing total of 60 runs and 74 hits in the two games.

Elsewhere, the New York Yankees edged Detroit 2-1 at Lakeland, Milwaukee defeated Boston 9-2 at Scottsdale, the Chicago Cubs nipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-5 at Mesa and the New York Mets beat the Chicago White Sox 6-4 at St. Petersburg.

Rakow checked the Reds on eight hits while batterymate Haywood Sullivan gave the A's the runs they needed with a two-run homer off Joey Jay. The Twins used five walks, a two-run double by Bob Allison and Jim Snyder's two-run single for five in the eighth off Jim Lehew after the Orioles' Steve Barber had hurled four-hit ball for seven innings.

Home runs by Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda, Bob Perry, Manuel Mota and Jim Davenport paced the Giants' 25-hit outburst but it took a single by Matty Alou to drive in the winner in the 11th. Willie Kirkland hit two homers in the Indians 20-hit offensive. Home runs by Tom Tresh and Elston Howard off the Tigers' Phil Regan got the job done for the Yankees.

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It may be up to old Johnny Longden to determine just how long Willie Shoemaker, the crown prince of jockeys, occupies the throne abdicated by Eddie Arcaro.

"I plan to retire when I'm about 35, unless Longden is still riding," the 30-year old Shoemaker said today. Longden is now 55, and still riding.

"He was riding before I was born, and darned if I'm going to let him outlast me," the Shoe said.

He immediately latched on to two of the big horses in racing, the Bohemia Stables' Kelso and George D. Widener's Jaipur. Both were the private property of Arcaro, who retired as the greatest money winning jockey of all time after more than 30 years of racing.

Shoemaker's credentials as the new No. 1 man are impressive. He rose to stardom faster than any rider in American history.

WILLIE SHOEMAKER
Successor To Arcaro.

$24,466,798 through 1961. Through 1961, Shoemaker rode 4,199 winners, third behind Arcaro's 4,779 and Longden's 5,500-plus.

Shoemaker, a native of Fabens, Tex., who was raised in El Monte, Calif., rode his first winner, Shafter V., at Golden Gate Fields, Calif., April 20, 1949. Seven years later he rode his 2,500th winner, the fastest ever to hit that figure.

Kent State Aide Named Steubenville Cage Coach

STEUBENVILLE — John D. Bayer, assistant basketball coach at Kent State University, today signed a contract to become head court coach at The College of Steubenville for the 1962-63 season.

The announcement was made by the Rev. Kevin R. Keelan, who said the Faculty Committee on Athletics had reviewed numerous applications, for the vacancy.

Bayer succeeds Wayne H. Smith, a Steubenville graduate, who had been at the helm for the past two years. He resigned shortly after the first of the year because of pressing personal commitments. He is an engineer by profession.

A former back court star at the College, Smith's team amassed a record of 30-20 during his tenure. Each year his team earned a berth in the NAIA state playoffs. The Barons won in 1961 and went to the national finals in Kansas City. This year an unseasonable blizzard, which struck on the day the team was to depart, kept them from the playoffs.

Bayer learned his high school basketball at Farrell, Pa., under Coach Edward McCluskey, whose teams have been a perennial power in Western Pennsylvania basketball. His team has been in the state finals three times in the last six years.

The new Baron coach was a forward on the Farrell team for three years, and upon graduation enrolled at Kent State, where he was a member of the varsity team for three years. He returned to Farrell as assistant basketball coach and instructor in speech following his graduation from Kent State.

Governors' Objections Loom

Congressmen Rap Army Plan To Junk Divisions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressmen opened fire today on the Army's controversial plan to break up eight battle-scarred National Guard and Reserve infantry divisions.

Meanwhile, the Army braced for a salvo of objections from another flank—governors of some of the 21 states affected.

Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., predicted the plan would touch off a major battle in Congress. He said it was another example of the administration's "flaunting the will of the Congress."

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said he hoped Congress would be able to prevent the action, which the Army announced late Wednesday as part of a major reorganization scheme designed to build a trim, trained and ready-to-fight Reserve and Guard.

The plan contemplates reorganizing much of the manpower in the four Guard and four Reserve divisions into eight more flexible brigades of between 3,000 and 4,500 men each. Many units now part of the divisions would be assigned to support the regular Army, if needed.

Although the Army avoided the term "eliminate," officers acknowledged that would be the practical effect. All that would be left would be their headquarters, which would supervise certain training and support operations.

The eight divisions—some with histories dating back to the Revolution and most with many battle streamers:

Guard—34th Division of Nebraska and Iowa; 35th of Kansas and Missouri; 43rd of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Vermont; 41st of Florida and South Carolina.

Reserve—79th of Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware; 94th of Massachusetts; 96th of Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Washington and Nevada; 103rd of Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

At the same time, the Army plans a six-division force of priority National Guard divisions that would be ticketed for early call-up in an emergency to back up the 16 regular Army divisions.

These first-ranked outfits would be kept at 75 to 80 per cent of their authorized strength, which will total about 15,000 when their structure is revamped. Most of them now number only about 9,000 men.

'Harder To Battle Course Than Man,' Jones Says

"I used to lose 10 to 15 pounds every time I played in an open championship," the Grand Slam king from Atlanta recalled today. "I could compete in the match-play amateur tournaments and never lose an ounce.

"In match play golf, where it's man against man, there are plenty of opportunities to relax and blow off steam. In the stroke-play opens, where it's man against the course, one loose shot can cost you the title.

"I guess I worried off the pounds when I played in the opens."

Jones, who swept to 13 British and U.S. national championships before his retirement at the age of 28, said the pressure built up tremendously in 1930 when he scored the game's unparalleled Grand Slam—winning the U.S. Open and Amateur and the British Open and Amateur in 12 months.

"It was the waiting and not the tournament themselves which got me," Jones added. "This was the most exasperating feature of it. You see, I had to wait from July to September between the British and the U.S. Amateur."

Crippled by a spinal ailment and partially paralyzed, Jones can no longer swing a club. He watches the game's new breed pass by from a wheelchair on the porch of his white cottage, alongside the 10th fairway at Augusta National. Occasionally, he wanders out on the course in an electric cart.

Dupas Claims Paret's Death Public's Fault

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "It's the people all around who are to blame—the public. That's who I blame—the public."

That's the comment of Ralph Dupas, No. 1 ranked welterweight boxer, on the death of former welter titlist Benny (Kid) Paret, who died Tuesday from injuries received in his March 24 fight with Emile Griffith.

"People are blaming the referee and the manager for not stopping the fight," Dupas said. "But you didn't hear anybody at ringside yelling to stop the fight."

The 26-year-old veteran New Orleans fighter said public demand for sluggers has made managers turn fighters into punchers rather than boxers.

Runaway Rig Hits Dwelling

WEIRTON — A Pennsylvania trucker narrowly escaped death and damage was estimated at more than $20,000 when his loaded tractor - trailer rig hurtled some 20 feet into the air and struck a brick home at the foot of the steep Cove Hill Rd. Wednesday night.

Daniel Durkit, 25, of Glendale, Pa., is in "satisfactory" condition at Weirton General Hospital with a possible concussion, fractured ribs and abrasions in the crash in which he was pinned in the cab.

Police said Durkit was driving the outfit owned by Conley Motor Express Co. of Pittsburgh and loaded with steel strappings when he lost control while descending the steep grade and attempting to negotiate a sharp right turn.

The rig struck a four-foot embankment, which threw it into the air and up against the home occupied by Ivan C. Kinder, Weirton officers said.

The truck apparently bounced about 20 feet into the air, officers said, explaining tire marks were visible on the brick wall near the upstairs windows.

The porch of the home was damaged but there was no visible damage to the brick wall, police said. The tractor - trailer was demolished.

George Bayer, born Sept. 17, 1925, in Bremerton, Wash., is the Babe Ruth of golf, hitting the ball the farthest of the pros. He once hit a spectator standing near the green, 476 yards from the tee.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Out Of The Bible

Alan Gill

And don't let his forthcoming Broadway enterprise fool you. It's a comedy about Marilyn Monroe, is called "Venus at "Large," and, says Mr. Denker, "is going to take a swipe at everything that's silly in and around the American theater." But between rehearsals of the play, Mr. Denker got to talking about his religious writings and particularly about "Give Us Barabbas," the "Hall of Fame" drama that made a rather large impact on television viewers a year ago.

IT WILL BE re-shown on Palm Sunday, April 15, on NBC, and I would suggest you take a look.

"Barabbas has always fascinated me," said Denker, who looks like a distraught Eddie Albert. "All we know is, he was a murderer and a revolutionary, the crowd called for his release instead of Christ's, and he simply disappeared.

"What became of him? And wouldn't he have a curiosity about the gentle but intense Man who died in his place on the cross?

"So the play is about Barabbas' search — for Christ, and for his own destiny. He goes to Pilate and learns nothing; goes to the empty tomb in a scene that's terrifyingly done by James Daly; then goes to the Apostles in the upper room, where he gets his answer.

"THERE'S NO END to the fascinations of the Bible as a dramatic source book. David's a great character. And Moses. Solomon's a bore, but, in the New Testament, who is more warmly real than Peter? A man of terrific temper, a liar, a traitor, a very gallant man, a very human man.

"And Paul. A great character! I'm doing the screen play of the Taylor Caldwell novel about St. Luke, 'Dear and Glorious Physician,' and Paul doesn't know it yet but he's going to be in it."

That work began back in 1939, after a short career in law, when Henry Denker wrote a couple of radio dramas that were put on by the "Columbia Workshop."

This led to "Reader's Digest of the Air," an Ethel Barrymore radio show, and, for an enervating decade, "The Greatest Story Ever Told," for which Denker was writer, producer and director.

"I LOVED IT, every word, program and season of it. My religious education had come between the ages of 6 and 15, when I studied to be a rabbi. I put it to work in 'The Greatest Story.' "

But, he was asked, wouldn't his rabbinical training aim him toward the Old Testament rather than the New?

"No, no. At the inception of the program, we signed on eight Christian writers, all with sturdy Sunday school backgrounds. But they couldn't do it. They were, I suppose, too close to it."

The conversation turned to the depiction of Christ in drama and on film — the spotlessly white robe, the carefully marcelled hair, even (on "The Greatest Story"; the sound-box voice. Weren't these characterizations too pristine, too inhuman, too unreal?

"WELL," Denker said, "you must remember the extraordinary magnetism of Christ. When He said, 'Follow me,' Peter followed! I don't think there's an actor in the world who could convey Christ's power. So you have to concentrate, not on the preaching Christ, but on the listening crowd. Only in the face of the bystander can you capture the true impact of the Man."

And that ever-present question, who killed Christ?

"No one really knows," said Denker. "I have my theories, of course, and they're suggested in the play."

He talked about the extralegality of the trial, the political motives of Annas and Caiphas, the infiltration of the Passover crowd by revolutionaries and mercenaries, and the likelihood of political inaccuracy in the gospel of St. John, written long after the event.

"And remember Palm Sunday. Were the people who laid the palm before the feet of the donkey ready, just five days later, to cry, 'Give us Barabbas'?"

Poll Workers Appointed In Grant District

Names of the workers were submitted to county commissioners for approval by both Democratic and Republican Executive Committees.

The Democratic committee is permitted to name six workers for each polling site as the party in control of county government, while the GOP is authorized to select four.

The procedure was followed in each of the county's 39 precincts, except in Precinct 9 in Grant District where the Democrats named three and the GOP two.

DEMOCRATS

Precinct 3 — Mrs. Harold Staley, Lillian Reed, Mrs. Lester Wehner, Mrs. Alice Yoho, Mrs. Aletha Minor and Mrs. Lester Lutton; Precinct 4 — Helen Eskra, Ada Erlitz, Betty Dotson, Mrs. Martha Handley, Elizabeth Ludovici and Josephine Zagula.

Precinct 5 — Mrs. Lena Pepin, Mrs. Gaynel Shroades, Mrs. Sherman Williams, Lois Brewer, Thelma Wright and S. J. Sayre; Precinct 6 — Mrs. Edna Schon, Novela Pugh, Regina Cunningham, Mrs. Beatrice Pryor, Mrs. Louis Hoskins and Mrs. Alma Friley.

Precinct 7 — Marie Haddox, Mrs. Salem Grimm, Ruby Bragg, Mrs. Jessie Looman, Mrs. Lester Anderson, and Mrs. Lester Waide; Precinct 8 — Valeria Burch, Mary Lou Durham, Mrs. Alfred Bowen, Mrs. Louise Staley, Minnie Smith and Sue Gibas.

REPUBLICANS

Precinct 7 — Mrs. Chester Tucker, Mrs. Edwin Carson, Mrs. Ruth Sprouse and Mrs. Elma Lowers; Precinct 8 — Mrs. J. Fred Allison, Mrs. Dale May, Miss Ethel Moore and Mrs. Beulah Hill; Precinct 9 — Miss Martha Troop and Mrs. David W. McMillin.

Girl, 11, Object Of Custody Suit, To Take Stand

Judge Joe H. Swinehart of the Wyandotte County Juvenile Court instructed the parents, Dr. Curtis N. Sandage, 42-year-old bacteriologist, and Mrs. Irma Sandage, an Oxford, Ohio, social worker, not to coach her.

The Sandages were divorced in 1959. Mrs. Sandage won custody of Anne and an older daughter, Lynn, 17. Sandage charges that Mrs. Sandage neglects Anne in favor of Lynn.

Body Recovered

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—The body of William Crawford, 15, has been recovered from Wills Creek, where he drowned when a boat capsized Tuesday. The creek was still being dragged for the bodies of Harold Wolfe, 17, and Tommy Mitchell, 11, also presumably drowned in the mishap.

Man Held Guilty On 2 Charges, Faces New Trial

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP)—One trial is over, but William Bert Conrad, alias Leo Vore, faces another today in the Dec. 31 terrorizing of a Van Wert County couple, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Meyers.

Wednesday night's verdict faces Conrad with sentences of 5-30 years for kidnaping and 1-7 year for the assault. The former grain elevator employe allegedly hit Mrs. Meyers with a gun and tried to drag her into his automobile.

Newell Estate Shows Appraisal Of $43,052

The estate of the late Virginia Moore Rush of Newell has been appraised at $43,052.18, according to records filed in the Hancock County Courthouse in New Cumberland.

Project Cost At Rogers Set At $268,000

ROGERS — Preliminary estimates of sewage disposal and water supply systems for the village, on which Council has tabled action, show the project would cost some $268,000.

The Willard Schade & Associates of Cleveland has reported tentative costs would be $140,000 for a sewage treatment plant and sanitary sewers and $128,000 for wells, water mains and storage tank.

Assuming a federal grant of about $18,000 could be obtained, the cost of financing the project along with expense of operations would be about $17,000 a year, or $115 annually for each home or business.

The firm has suggested one method of financing would be to obtain the federal grant of $18,000; vote general obligation bonds of $15,000 for 20 years (tax rate of $4 per $1,000 property valuation); special assessments of $500 a lot, and general obligation or mortgage revenue bonds of $155,000 and $2,500 operating cost supported by revenue.

The firm has also suggested the possibility of a program of conservation and rehabilitation of the village under the Federal Urban Renewal Administration in which government pays a substantial part of public improvements.

Schade has urged the village to obtain a preliminary engineering study required for a federal grant. A study would cost between $2,500 and $3,500 with a later cost of $3,000 to $6,000 for test drilling for water.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Out Of The Bible

Alan Gill

And don't let his forthcoming Broadway enterprise fool you. It's a comedy about Marilyn Monroe, is called "Venus at "Large," and, says Mr. Denker, "is going to take a swipe at everything that's silly in and around the American theater." But between rehearsals of the play, Mr. Denker got to talking about his religious writings and particularly about "Give Us Barabbas," the "Hall of Fame" drama that made a rather large impact on television viewers a year ago.

IT WILL BE re-shown on Palm Sunday, April 15, on NBC, and I would suggest you take a look.

"Barabbas has always fascinated me," said Denker, who looks like a distraught Eddie Albert. "All we know is, he was a murderer and a revolutionary, the crowd called for his release instead of Christ's, and he simply disappeared.

"What became of him? And wouldn't he have a curiosity about the gentle but intense Man who died in his place on the cross?

"So the play is about Barabbas' search — for Christ, and for his own destiny. He goes to Pilate and learns nothing; goes to the empty tomb in a scene that's terrifyingly done by James Daly; then goes to the Apostles in the upper room, where he gets his answer.

"THERE'S NO END to the fascinations of the Bible as a dramatic source book. David's a great character. And Moses. Solomon's a bore, but, in the New Testament, who is more warmly real than Peter? A man of terrific temper, a liar, a traitor, a very gallant man, a very human man.

"And Paul. A great character! I'm doing the screen play of the Taylor Caldwell novel about St. Luke, 'Dear and Glorious Physician,' and Paul doesn't know it yet but he's going to be in it."

That work began back in 1939, after a short career in law, when Henry Denker wrote a couple of radio dramas that were put on by the "Columbia Workshop."

This led to "Reader's Digest of the Air," an Ethel Barrymore radio show, and, for an enervating decade, "The Greatest Story Ever Told," for which Denker was writer, producer and director.

"I LOVED IT, every word, program and season of it. My religious education had come between the ages of 6 and 15, when I studied to be a rabbi. I put it to work in 'The Greatest Story.' "

But, he was asked, wouldn't his rabbinical training aim him toward the Old Testament rather than the New?

"No, no. At the inception of the program, we signed on eight Christian writers, all with sturdy Sunday school backgrounds. But they couldn't do it. They were, I suppose, too close to it."

The conversation turned to the depiction of Christ in drama and on film — the spotlessly white robe, the carefully marcelled hair, even (on "The Greatest Story"; the sound-box voice. Weren't these characterizations too pristine, too inhuman, too unreal?

"WELL," Denker said, "you must remember the extraordinary magnetism of Christ. When He said, 'Follow me,' Peter followed! I don't think there's an actor in the world who could convey Christ's power. So you have to concentrate, not on the preaching Christ, but on the listening crowd. Only in the face of the bystander can you capture the true impact of the Man."

And that ever-present question, who killed Christ?

"No one really knows," said Denker. "I have my theories, of course, and they're suggested in the play."

He talked about the extralegality of the trial, the political motives of Annas and Caiphas, the infiltration of the Passover crowd by revolutionaries and mercenaries, and the likelihood of political inaccuracy in the gospel of St. John, written long after the event.

"And remember Palm Sunday. Were the people who laid the palm before the feet of the donkey ready, just five days later, to cry, 'Give us Barabbas'?"

Poll Workers Appointed In Grant District

A partial list of poll workers has been named for Hancock County's primary May 8.

Names of the workers were submitted to county commissioners for approval by both Democratic and Republican Executive Committees.

The Democratic committee is permitted to name six workers for each polling site as the party in control of county government, while the GOP is authorized to select four.

The procedure was followed in each of the county's 39 precincts, except in Precinct 9 in Grant District where the Democrats named three and the GOP two.

DEMOCRATS

Precinct 3 — Mrs. Harold Staley, Lillian Reed, Mrs. Lester Wehner, Mrs. Alice Yoho, Mrs. Aletha Minor and Mrs. Lester Lutton; Precinct 4 — Helen Eskra, Ada Erlitz, Betty Dotson, Mrs. Martha Handley, Elizabeth Ludovici and Josephine Zagula.

Precinct 5 — Mrs. Lena Pepin, Mrs. Gaynel Shroades, Mrs. Sherman Williams, Lois Brewer, Thelma Wright and S. J. Sayre; Precinct 6 — Mrs. Edna Schon, Novela Pugh, Regina Cunningham, Mrs. Beatrice Pryor, Mrs. Louis Hoskins and Mrs. Alma Friley.

Precinct 7 — Marie Haddox, Mrs. Salem Grimm, Ruby Bragg, Mrs. Jessie Looman, Mrs. Lester Anderson, and Mrs. Lester Waide; Precinct 8 — Valeria Burch, Mary Lou Durham, Mrs. Alfred Bowen, Mrs. Louise Staley, Minnie Smith and Sue Gibas.

REPUBLICANS

Precinct 7 — Mrs. Chester Tucker, Mrs. Edwin Carson, Mrs. Ruth Sprouse and Mrs. Elma Lowers; Precinct 8 — Mrs. J. Fred Allison, Mrs. Dale May, Miss Ethel Moore and Mrs. Beulah Hill; Precinct 9 — Miss Martha Troop and Mrs. David W. McMillin.

Girl, 11, Object Of Custody Suit, To Take Stand

Judge Joe H. Swinehart of the Wyandotte County Juvenile Court instructed the parents, Dr. Curtis N. Sandage, 42-year-old bacteriologist, and Mrs. Irma Sandage, an Oxford, Ohio, social worker, not to coach her.

The Sandages were divorced in 1959. Mrs. Sandage won custody of Anne and an older daughter, Lynn, 17. Sandage charges that Mrs. Sandage neglects Anne in favor of Lynn.

Body Recovered

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—The body of William Crawford, 15, has been recovered from Wills Creek, where he drowned when a boat capsized Tuesday. The creek was still being dragged for the bodies of Harold Wolfe, 17, and Tommy Mitchell, 11, also presumably drowned in the mishap.

Man Held Guilty On 2 Charges, Faces New Trial

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP)—One trial is over, but William Bert Conrad, alias Leo Vore, faces another today in the Dec. 31 terrorizing of a Van Wert County couple, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Meyers.

Jurors found Conrad guilty Wednesday night on charges of kidnaping and assault with a deadly weapon. Today the ex-convict faces a charge of auto theft and another of assault with a deadly weapon.

Wednesday night's verdict faces Conrad with sentences of 5-30 years for kidnaping and 1-7 year for the assault. The former grain elevator employe allegedly hit Mrs. Meyers with a gun and tried to drag her into his automobile.

He was found innocent on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill.

Today's trial concerns the alleged assault in which Conrad is supposed to have tied Meyers to a bed in Conrad's house and the alleged theft of the victim's car.

Newell Estate Shows Appraisal Of $43,052

The estate of the late Virginia Moore Rush of Newell has been appraised at $43,052.18, according to records filed in the Hancock County Courthouse in New Cumberland.

It includes $186.18 in government bonds and securities, and $42,866 in money, certificates of deposit, notes and accounts.

Project Cost At Rogers Set At $268,000

ROGERS — Preliminary estimates of sewage disposal and water supply systems for the village, on which Council has tabled action, show the project would cost some $268,000.

The Willard Schade & Associates of Cleveland has reported tentative costs would be $140,000 for a sewage treatment plant and sanitary sewers and $128,000 for wells, water mains and storage tank.

Assuming a federal grant of about $18,000 could be obtained, the cost of financing the project along with expense of operations would be about $17,000 a year, or $115 annually for each home or business.

The firm has suggested one method of financing would be to obtain the federal grant of $18,000; vote general obligation bonds of $15,000 for 20 years (tax rate of $4 per $1,000 property valuation); special assessments of $500 a lot, and general obligation or mortgage revenue bonds of $155,000 and $2,500 operating cost supported by revenue.

The firm has also suggested the possibility of a program of conservation and rehabilitation of the village under the Federal Urban Renewal Administration in which government pays a substantial part of public improvements.

Schade has urged the village to obtain a preliminary engineering study required for a federal grant. A study would cost between $2,500 and $3,500 with a later cost of $3,000 to $6,000 for test drilling for water.

On Compulsory Retirement

High Court Puts Down Youngstown Ordinance

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Supreme Court has let a Toledo attorney off with a public reprimand, rather than the indefinite suspension he faced, and has knocked down a Youngstown city ordinance on compulsory retirement of police and firemen.

Subject of the reprimand was Sylvester J. Trepinski. The court's commissioners on grievances and discipline had recommended the suspension. This was on the basis of Toledo Bar Association charges that the lawyer attempted fraud against Lucas County Probate Court. The case stemmed from $3,500 in false nursing claims against the estate of Mary J. Burns, who died in 1956.

The Supreme Court decided on the lesser penalty, it declared Wednesday, because "this was the only charge of misconduct made against Trepinski in 32 years of practice."

The court decided, 5-1, that Youngstown could not make William W. Reed retire from the police department because he is over age 65 and has 33 years of service.

The high court ordered Mahoning County Common Pleas Court to enjoin the city and its officials from enforcing such compulsory retirement. The city retirement rule is a provision of a 1960 municipal ordinance.

The decision by Judge Kingsley A. Taft said the ordinance was in conflict with Youngstown's charter.

The Supreme Court affirmed, 6-0, Licking County decisions holding that James I. Goodwin is entitled to $11,000 in U.S. savings bonds purchased by the late Lydia Z. Sachs before she was declared incompetent in 1954. But, the court said, Goodwin does not own $29,100 from matured bonds cashed before Mrs. Sachs' death in 1959.

The bonds were guardianship assets in an account filed in Probate Court. Guardians appointed for Mrs. Sachs' estate cashed maturing bonds and placed the money in the account. Goodwin claimed ownership of the proceeds of the bonds, which Mrs. Sachs had placed in a safe deposit box marked as Goodwin's property.

Rep. Bow Raps U.S. State Dept. On 'Propaganda'

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ohio congressman says the State Department is breaking the law by publishing what he termed propaganda booklets supporting the administration's foreign policy.

Rep. Frank T. Bow, a Republican from Canton, said the State Department in recent months has stepped up publishing materials supporting the administration's proposed foreign trade legislation.

A critic of President Kennedy's proposals to lower tariffs, Bow said Wednesday in a speech prepared for the House:

He said persons might be wary and critical of material coming from a special interest group ". . . but will consider it as gospel truth, if the government says the identical thing because he thinks government officials are impartial."

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ohio congressman says the State Department is breaking the law by publishing what he termed propaganda booklets supporting the administration's foreign policy.

Rep. Frank T. Bow, a Republican from Canton, said the State Department in recent months has stepped up publishing materials supporting the administration's proposed foreign trade legislation.

A critic of President Kennedy's proposals to lower tariffs, Bow said Wednesday in a speech prepared for the House:

He said persons might be wary and critical of material coming from a special interest group ". . . but will consider it as gospel truth, if the government says the identical thing because he thinks government officials are impartial."

Split Threatened On Issues

Dirksen And Halleck Face Some Challenges In GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—The "Ev and Charlie" leadership team is having its troubles with Republicans in Congress threatening to ride off in different directions on some major issues.

Without consulting Halleck, Miller has tried to drum up support for a GOP substitute for the administration's plan to link medical care for the elderly to the Social Security system. Halleck thus far has given no sign he is willing to buy the substitute.

Dirksen, who usually supports the administration on major foreign policy action, believed he had quieted most Republican opposition to Kennedy's request for authority to purchase $100 million in U.N. bonds by agreeing to a substitute worked out by Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., and others.

This would have authorized the President to loan the U.N. up to $100 million at interest terms and length of time he might fix. But when it became apparent that the President could purchase 25-year, 2 per cent interest U.N. bonds under this authority, conservative Republicans exploded.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, was one of those who bucked. Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., a spokesman for conservatives, condemned the substitute.

In the House, Halleck has kept his own counsel about Miller's proposal for GOP backing of a measure by Rep. Frank Bow, R-Ohio, to help finance medical care for the elderly through private health insurance plans.

In any showdown on the issue, party members are betting that Halleck will carry a solid majority with him.

Grass Fire Quelled

LISBON —Village firemen were called Wednesday at 1:10 p. m. to extinguish a grass and brush fire on a hillside opposite Willow Grove Park, east of the Logtown Rd. No damage was reported. At 9 last night, firemen were called on a grass fire two miles west of the village on Route 30, but could find nothing. The caller may have seen trash burning at the dump operated jointly by the village and Center Township, firemen said.

They Walked With Christ

THE LEPER

"And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean."

—Matthew VIII:2

"Believe ye that I am able to do this?"

And when the suffering truly believed, as did this nameless leper, they were healed.

The Bible tells us nothing of the background of the leper whom Jesus made clean by a touch. Nothing of his life before he was struck down by leprosy—shunned by all men and ravaged by the terrible disease that slowly ate its way through his tissues into the very marrow of the bones, rotting his body piecemeal.

But there is an apocryphal account of the conversation between this man of shining faith, and Jesus.

It is said that when Jesus paused at the leper's greeting to Him outside the gateway to the city that day, the afflicted man saw in the face of the stranger the sincere kindness of a friend.

"Master, you are kind," he told Jesus. "And kindness is Truth, and Truth is God. I have found the meaning of this in the desert in a sudden shade, and in a cup of water. I have found it in the song long ago buried in my heart. But never before have I found it in a Man."

Jesus met the gaze of the sick man. Unlike others who drew away in repulsion and fear at his disfigured state, Jesus saw past the hideous mask of disease into the man's heart and soul. In the tortured face He saw trust and gladness.

"I understand thy loneliness," He answered, "for I, too, have known the rejection of men. My loneliness is sorrow that I cannot gather all into the Revelation of the Father's love, which I have known."

As Jesus spoke, the leper, exalted in his thoughts, memorized the line of His face and of His body. In a surge of faith, reinforced by love, he cried:

"And Jesus put forth his hand and touched him, saying, "I will; be thou clean."

And the leper's affliction vanished. He was never again to suffer the anguish of the exiled and the defeated.

He had glimpsed the way of Liberation.

Church Services Set At Hammondsville

Evangelist Paul Brookes of Chester will conduct a series of services at the Hammondsville Methodist Church beginning tonight at 7:30. He will hold the services through April 15.

Council Acts On Fire Pact

A reciprocal fire protection agreement with Ohioville was approved by the Industry Council Wednesday night.

Council received a copy of the mutual aid agreement adopted by the Ohioville Council and in turn approved a similar resolution.

Louis Phillips, a member of the police and fire committee, reported the borough will receive its new fire truck by May 1 or shortly thereafter.

The fire department was granted permission to enter the truck in parades held within a reasonable distance of the community.

James Muns, president, conducted business. Matthew Bertovic, chairman of the recreation committee, said work is being done on a ball field for the Hot Stove League.

A letter was received from the Municipal Authority in regards to rental of fire hydrants. The police and fire committee will study the proposal.

The next meeting is May 2.

Five champion jockeys of the last 12 years are riding at Hialeah in Florida this winter. They are John Sellers, Bill Hartack, Willie Shoemaker, Charlie Burr and Joe Culmone.

Split Threatened On Issues

Dirksen And Halleck Face Some Challenges In GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—The "Ev and Charlie" leadership team is having its troubles with Republicans in Congress threatening to ride off in different directions on some major issues.

Dirksen's difficulties center around a compromise proposal to authorize President Kennedy to provide up to $100 million in financing for the United Nations.

Without consulting Halleck, Miller has tried to drum up support for a GOP substitute for the administration's plan to link medical care for the elderly to the Social Security system. Halleck thus far has given no sign he is willing to buy the substitute.

Dirksen, who usually supports the administration on major foreign policy action, believed he had quieted most Republican opposition to Kennedy's request for authority to purchase $100 million in U.N. bonds by agreeing to a substitute worked out by Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., and others.

This would have authorized the President to loan the U.N. up to $100 million at interest terms and length of time he might fix. But when it became apparent that the President could purchase 25-year, 2 per cent interest U.N. bonds under this authority, conservative Republicans exploded.

In the House, Halleck has kept his own counsel about Miller's proposal for GOP backing of a measure by Rep. Frank Bow, R-Ohio, to help finance medical care for the elderly through private health insurance plans.

In any showdown on the issue, party members are betting that Halleck will carry a solid majority with him.

Grass Fire Quelled

LISBON —Village firemen were called Wednesday at 1:10 p. m. to extinguish a grass and brush fire on a hillside opposite Willow Grove Park, east of the Logtown Rd. No damage was reported. At 9 last night, firemen were called on a grass fire two miles west of the village on Route 30, but could find nothing. The caller may have seen trash burning at the dump operated jointly by the village and Center Township, firemen said.

They Walked With Christ

THE LEPER

"And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean."

—Matthew VIII:2

When Jesus healed the sick, He used no strange nostrums, hocus-pocus, or histrionics that might enhance His reputation. His cures rested upon simple faith.

"Believe ye that I am able to do this?"

And when the suffering truly believed, as did this nameless leper, they were healed.

The Bible tells us nothing of the background of the leper whom Jesus made clean by a touch. Nothing of his life before he was struck down by leprosy—shunned by all men and ravaged by the terrible disease that slowly ate its way through his tissues into the very marrow of the bones, rotting his body piecemeal.

But there is an apocryphal account of the conversation between this man of shining faith, and Jesus.

It is said that when Jesus paused at the leper's greeting to Him outside the gateway to the city that day, the afflicted man saw in the face of the stranger the sincere kindness of a friend.

"Master, you are kind," he told Jesus. "And kindness is Truth, and Truth is God. I have found the meaning of this in the desert in a sudden shade, and in a cup of water. I have found it in the song long ago buried in my heart. But never before have I found it in a Man."

Jesus met the gaze of the sick man. Unlike others who drew away in repulsion and fear at his disfigured state, Jesus saw past the hideous mask of disease into the man's heart and soul. In the tortured face He saw trust and gladness.

"I understand thy loneliness," He answered, "for I, too, have known the rejection of men. My loneliness is sorrow that I cannot gather all into the Revelation of the Father's love, which I have known."

As Jesus spoke, the leper, exalted in his thoughts, memorized the line of His face and of His body. In a surge of faith, reinforced by love, he cried:

"And Jesus put forth his hand and touched him, saying, "I will; be thou clean."

And the leper's affliction vanished. He was never again to suffer the anguish of the exiled and the defeated.

He had glimpsed the way of Liberation.

Church Services Set At Hammondsville

Purge Brews In Red China Party Ranks

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's leadership today castigated members of the Chinese Communist party who it said have become bureaucratic, insolent and self-satisfied.

The unusually sharp denunciation may be the prelude to a new purge of the Chinese party of more than 12 million members. The purged may become whipping boys for the present chaotic condition of Chinese agriculture, which has created hunger and unrest on the mainland.

The attack was published in the official Peiping People's Daily midway through an ultra-secret meeting of the National People's Congress, the Chinese Communists' rubber-stamp parliament.

"There are persons," the paper said, "who have become steeped in bureaucracy, exhibit feelings of insolence and self-satisfaction, forget realities, estrange themselves from the masses and do not care to discuss things with the masses."

The editorial said many new members of the party lack experience in revolutionary struggle and have not been educated in Marxism and Leninism. Both old and new party members must, during the present period, undergo re-education, it continued.

"It has become an important task for us to understand the importance of solidifying the party's political, ideological and organizational phases, strengthening the party's ideological construction," it declared.

The last big overhaul of the Chinese Communist party took place in 1958 following the failure of Mao Tze-tung's freedom of expression policy, called "let all flowers bloom, let 100 schools of thought contend." For one startling month critics of Communism, and of Mao, had their public say. Then they were subjected to ruthless persecution as "rightists."

In recent months the Chinese Reds have made plain that the "great leap forward"—the crash program to make China a world industrial power—has been shelved because of agriculture failures. Mao's agricultural program of rural communes, grouping millions of peasants into communized colonies, has been drastically modified because the peasants didn't produce in the communes.

As it did in the "let all flowers bloom" period, the People's Daily now says that party members should be encouraged to criticize higher ranking members.

"Say anything you know," the editorial said, "express whatever you are thinking, and if there is nothing wrong in a person's opinion, it should be taken as a lesson to the listener."

9 Attend Hookstown Church Class Session

Nine attended a meeting of the Philathean Class of the Hookstown United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Searight.

Plans were made for a bake sale May 8. A Bible was presented Mr. and Mrs. Everet Make, recently married. Mrs. Dale Wilson, vice president, was in charge and Mrs. Searight led devotions.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Make.

Vocational Series Will Conclude Friday

The 15th annual Vocational Education Conference Week at East Liverpool High School will conclude Friday with the last in a series of conferences in various industrial, business and service fields.

Eleven representatives will discuss job opportunities available in nursing, pharmacy, home economics and home service, agriculture, beauty culture, engineering, YMCA work, real estate, airlines, trucking and radio and TV sales.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have something to say and I want to say it to the widest audience possible. So I'm writing to Ann Landers.

Why are people so thoughtless? I'm a perfectly normal human being who happens to be about 4 inches shorter than the average American woman. Like any accident of birth I am stuck with my size and can do nothing about it.

Yet every time I enter a dress shop the sales person approaches me with, "You're going to be difficult to fit. You're very short, you know."

I know I'm short. How could I not know? A sales person with an ounce of brains would never say to a heavy woman, "You're fat, you know." Yet they think nothing of reminding short people that they are undersized.

All my life I've been called "Half Pint," "Pee Wee" and "Shrimp." I've tried to laugh it off but it still hurts. And it isn't only the insensitive dolts who make these remarks. I've had them from intelligent people.

Please print my letter for the benefit of all mankind. Like a pebble tossed into a brook, one never knows how far the ripples may reach. — WEE BUT MIGHTY.

Dear Mighty: Thank you for striking a blow for freedom. I am 5 feet, 2 inches tall and it's downright boring when people repeatedly say, "I expected you to be taller."

When I ask them why they usually come up with some nonsequitur, such as, "Oh, from the picture of your face I expected a tall woman."

On the other hand, I don't object to that tired but friendly cliche — about good things coming in small packages.

Parents Need Help

Dear Ann: I used to think this was a family problem but now I see it is something more. I need an outsider's opinion.

We have two teenage sons. Robert is an excellent student. He has distinguished himself academically all through his school years. His younger brother barely gets passing grades.

We have threatened, punished and even tried to shame the younger boy into doing as well as Robert. Nothing works. In fact, he is showing signs of bitter resentment toward his older brother. Things are going from bad to worse. What can you suggest? — Deeply concerned.

Dear D. C.: Stop holding up Robert as the shining example. In seeking to persuade the younger boy to compete you are throttling his initiative and making enemies of these brothers.

One reason the younger boy does so poorly is because he never felt he could do as well as his brother, so he withdrew completely. He figured that one who does not even try can scarcely be considered a contestant.

You parents need help from a professional so you may learn to deal with your children more intelligently. I hope it isn't too late.

Office Irritant

Dear Ann: An acquaintance who works in this office has become an irritant. It's an accumulation of small things over the years—such as, "May I borrow your car during lunch hour if you're not using it?" Or, "Would you mind dropping this off at the post office on your way home?"

I resent his gall and I could kick myself for allowing him to impose on me. Yet I hate to say no because when I refuse him something I feel guilty. What is the solution? — DUCK SOUP.

Dear Ducky: People who voice this complaint often fail to remember that they make "small requests," too.

If you wish to enjoy a clear conscience about saying no, make certain that you never ask this man to do you a favor. And I mean never.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Man Gets Life Term For House Burglaries

CLEVELAND (AP) — James Coleman, 31, of Cleveland was convicted Wednesday of three house burglaries last summer and sentenced to life in Ohio Penitentiary.

The jury refused to extend mercy in returning guilty verdicts against him on three counts of burglary and three of larceny. It was one of the few times here that Criminal Court jury had directed life terms in burglary cases, the maximum penalty provided for breaking into inhabited dwellings.

First State To Require Belts

Wisconsin Car Seat Belts Law Providing Grim Test

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A woman drove the family car along a city street, it veered slightly, a wheel struck the curb and a door swung open. She bounced helplessly to the concrete. Cause of death: fractured skull.

On a country road, a Wisconsin traffic patrol squad car shrieked after a fugitive at speeds close to 100 miles an hour. Another car blundered out of a side road, the patrol car slanted off the road, struck a utility pole, spun through a field and back onto the highway, upside down and a total wreck.

Those are two moments when life and death were very close together. Only a seat belt separated them. The woman had none, and died. The officer was belted in and lived.

That summarizes the record of the past six months, since Wisconsin became the first of the 50 states to require seat belts in new automobiles.

Since the act requires belt installation only in new cars, it has given authorities an effective—if grim—field test of the safety factor worked out previously in limited surveys.

The state has 1,338,876 passenger cars registered. Some 70,000 1962 models have been sold since the law went into effect last October. During the six months ended April 1, 376 persons have died in Wisconsin traffic accidents.

But with five per cent of the state's passenger automobiles equipped with seat belts, only one of the 376 accident victims during the period, according to State Motor Vehicle Department files, was wearing a seat belt.

The record is not complete enough to draw any extravagant conclusions. The accident report form still in use by state, county and local traffic officers does not provide space for reporting whether a car is equipped with belts and whether they were in use.

But after passage of the law, various newspaper and radio groups—including the Wisconsin Associated Press Radio-TV Association and the Wisconsin Associated Press Association, an organization of AP-member newspaper editors—undertook a campaign to include such information in news stories of fatal accidents.

Fairview Grange Confers Degrees

Some 75 attended a special meeting at the Fairview Grange Hall in Ohioville Tuesday night when the third and fourth degrees were conferred on candidates from South Beaver, Economy and Big Knob Grangers.

Mrs. Sam McKinney announced that the community service committee will meet in her home Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

The Grange will sponsor a fish fry April 13 in the Grange kitchen. Serving will begin at 4 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith of Center Grange, state deputy master, were guests.

Miss Helen Holava is degree team captain. Mrs. Charles Richards was in charge of tableaux and Mrs. F. Paul Dawson and Walter Schuffert presented vocal selections.

The regular meeting of the Grange will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the hall. Square dancing will follow.

President Receives New Rocking Chair

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has a new rocking chair.

It was presented Wednesday by Foreign Minister J. A. Bonilla Atiles of the Dominican Republic, who said he noticed, on a visit to Kennedy last January, that "the chair he was using was not very pretty, in my opinion."

"I am happy to say that he reported he found the new chair quite comfortable," said the foreign minister, who is in Washington for a health checkup.

Ballard Assails Kennedy, Young, Lausche In Talk

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — John S. Ballard, seeking the Republican nomination for U.S. senator, officially kicked off his campaign Wednesday night with verbal slaps at the Kennedy administration and Democratic Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young.

Some 500 partisans at a $25-a-plate dinner heard the Summit County prosecutor accuse the Kennedy administration of placing the country in "grave jeopardy."

"The Kennedy administration has succumbed to political expediency to the point where, I feel, it has placed in grave jeopardy our national ability to survive," said Ballard.

He described Sen. Lausche as a man who has "built a record of indifference." He said Lausche was a "figurehead statesman. His voice and influence in the Senate is near zero."

Of Young, he said: "He spends most of his time writing crank letters."

Ballard is one of four Republicans competing in the May primary for the nomination. The others are state Sens. Ross Pepple of Lima and Charles E. Fry of Springfield, and John M. Bailey of Toledo.

Lausche, Young Back Judge Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's senators have endorsed President Kennedy's appointment of John Weld Peck as U.S. District Court Judge for Southern Ohio.

The endorsements from Sen. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young came at a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee hearing Wednesday. The 48-year-old Peck, of Cincinnati, received a recess appointment last October to a judgeship that once was held by an uncle. A regular appointment was presented to the Senate this year.

Peck is a former Ohio Supreme Court judge. The appointment will be referred to the full Judiciary Committee at its next meeting.

Clerk Of Courts Lists Collections For March

LISBON — Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts, reported a total of $6,473.05 was paid the county treasurer in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the Car Title Department during March.

The clerk paid $8,764.12 to the state treasurer from the collection of sales and use tax and $53,747.38 from the collection of the auto dealers' tax, the county receiving $631.44 for its 1 per cent poundage. The state also received $1,377.10 for car title fees.

There were 63 civil cases filed in Common Pleas Court and the title department isued 3,904 auto titles, 130 duplicate titles, 770 memorandums, 57 duplicate memorandums, 1,337 notations of liens, 1,310 cancellations of liens and 1,645 acknowledgments.

Order Cites Barber

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Civil Rights Commission has issued a cease and desist order against the Yellow Springs barber who refused to trim a Negro's hair. The commission action follows up the Feb. 23 recommendation of its examiner, Ohio State University law professor Roland J. Stanger, that Lawrence E. Gegner be halted from discriminatory practices in his shop.

Film Producer Wins Two Ways—Surgery And Suit

Wald, 49, underwent a lower spinal operation at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Wednesday and is expected to remain there a week or 10 days.

He discovered after coming out of the operating room that a Superior Court jury had returned a verdict in his favor in a slander action brought by Jaik Rosenstein, publisher of the magazine Hollywood Close-Up.

Rosenstein said Wald made slanderous remarks about him in 1959. Wald said Rosenstein told him "I'm going to blast you" after Wald stopped advertising in Rosenstein's magazine.

Midland Market Nears Finish Of Remodeling

Air-conditioning, automatic checkouts, new lighting and other improvements have been made to the store at 20 7th St.

A new vestibule entrance is included in the work. New wall and center shelving and new display equipment for produce, bakery and frozen food items also have been installed.

Souvenir gifts will be distributed next week as part of an observance planned in conjunction with the remodeling.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Mrs. Naomi Parsons Bailey, who passed away 10 years ago today, April 5th:

Into a land that's free from pain, A land that knows no night.
And though our hearts are empty still Because our loss was great;
I know she would not have you mourn, She's just inside the gate.
For there the Master welcomed her To that new world divine;
With all its' beauties to behold, It's wonders so sublime.

IN loving memory of Deveda Baker who passed away April 6, 1930 and John Baker who passed away April 6, 1957. The Family.

First State To Require Belts

Wisconsin Car Seat Belts Law Providing Grim Test

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A woman drove the family car along a city street, it veered slightly, a wheel struck the curb and a door swung open. She bounced helplessly to the concrete. Cause of death: fractured skull.

On a country road, a Wisconsin traffic patrol squad car shrieked after a fugitive at speeds close to 100 miles an hour. Another car blundered out of a side road, the patrol car slanted off the road, struck a utility pole, spun through a field and back onto the highway, upside down and a total wreck.

Those are two moments when life and death were very close together. Only a seat belt separated them. The woman had none, and died. The officer was belted in and lived.

That summarizes the record of the past six months, since Wisconsin became the first of the 50 states to require seat belts in new automobiles.

Since the act requires belt installation only in new cars, it has given authorities an effective—if grim—field test of the safety factor worked out previously in limited surveys.

The state has 1,338,876 passenger cars registered. Some 70,000 1962 models have been sold since the law went into effect last October. During the six months ended April 1, 376 persons have died in Wisconsin traffic accidents.

But with five per cent of the state's passenger automobiles equipped with seat belts, only one of the 376 accident victims during the period, according to State Motor Vehicle Department files, was wearing a seat belt.

The record is not complete enough to draw any extravagant conclusions. The accident report form still in use by state, county and local traffic officers does not provide space for reporting whether a car is equipped with belts and whether they were in use.

But after passage of the law, various newspaper and radio groups—including the Wisconsin Associated Press Radio-TV Association and the Wisconsin Associated Press Association, an organization of AP-member newspaper editors—undertook a campaign to include such information in news stories of fatal accidents.

Fairview Grange Confers Degrees

Some 75 attended a special meeting at the Fairview Grange Hall in Ohioville Tuesday night when the third and fourth degrees were conferred on candidates from South Beaver, Economy and Big Knob Grangers.

Mrs. Sam McKinney announced that the community service committee will meet in her home Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

The Grange will sponsor a fish fry April 13 in the Grange kitchen. Serving will begin at 4 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith of Center Grange, state deputy master, were guests.

Miss Helen Holava is degree team captain. Mrs. Charles Richards was in charge of tableaux and Mrs. F. Paul Dawson and Walter Schuffert presented vocal selections.

The regular meeting of the Grange will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the hall. Square dancing will follow.

President Receives New Rocking Chair

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has a new rocking chair.

It was presented Wednesday by Foreign Minister J. A. Bonilla Atiles of the Dominican Republic, who said he noticed, on a visit to Kennedy last January, that "the chair he was using was not very pretty, in my opinion."

"I am happy to say that he reported he found the new chair quite comfortable," said the foreign minister, who is in Washington for a health checkup.

Ballard Assails Kennedy, Young, Lausche In Talk

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — John S. Ballard, seeking the Republican nomination for U.S. senator, officially kicked off his campaign Wednesday night with verbal slaps at the Kennedy administration and Democratic Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young.

Some 500 partisans at a $25-a-plate dinner heard the Summit County prosecutor accuse the Kennedy administration of placing the country in "grave jeopardy."

"The Kennedy administration has succumbed to political expediency to the point where, I feel, it has placed in grave jeopardy our national ability to survive," said Ballard.

He described Sen. Lausche as a man who has "built a record of indifference." He said Lausche was a "figurehead statesman. His voice and influence in the Senate is near zero."

Of Young, he said: "He spends most of his time writing crank letters."

Ballard is one of four Republicans competing in the May primary for the nomination. The others are state Sens. Ross Pepple of Lima and Charles E. Fry of Springfield, and John M. Bailey of Toledo.

Lausche, Young Back Judge Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's senators have endorsed President Kennedy's appointment of John Weld Peck as U.S. District Court Judge for Southern Ohio.

The endorsements from Sen. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young came at a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee hearing Wednesday. The 48-year-old Peck, of Cincinnati, received a recess appointment last October to a judgeship that once was held by an uncle. A regular appointment was presented to the Senate this year.

Peck is a former Ohio Supreme Court judge. The appointment will be referred to the full Judiciary Committee at its next meeting.

Clerk Of Courts Lists Collections For March

LISBON — Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts, reported a total of $6,473.05 was paid the county treasurer in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the Car Title Department during March.

The clerk paid $8,764.12 to the state treasurer from the collection of sales and use tax and $53,747.38 from the collection of the auto dealers' tax, the county receiving $631.44 for its 1 per cent poundage. The state also received $1,377.10 for car title fees.

There were 63 civil cases filed in Common Pleas Court and the title department isued 3,904 auto titles, 130 duplicate titles, 770 memorandums, 57 duplicate memorandums, 1,337 notations of liens, 1,310 cancellations of liens and 1,645 acknowledgments.

Order Cites Barber

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Civil Rights Commission has issued a cease and desist order against the Yellow Springs barber who refused to trim a Negro's hair. The commission action follows up the Feb. 23 recommendation of its examiner, Ohio State University law professor Roland J. Stanger, that Lawrence E. Gegner be halted from discriminatory practices in his shop.

Film Producer Wins Two Ways—Surgery And Suit

Wald, 49, underwent a lower spinal operation at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Wednesday and is expected to remain there a week or 10 days.

He discovered after coming out of the operating room that a Superior Court jury had returned a verdict in his favor in a slander action brought by Jaik Rosenstein, publisher of the magazine Hollywood Close-Up.

Rosenstein said Wald made slanderous remarks about him in 1959. Wald said Rosenstein told him "I'm going to blast you" after Wald stopped advertising in Rosenstein's magazine.

Midland Market Nears Finish Of Remodeling

Air-conditioning, automatic checkouts, new lighting and other improvements have been made to the store at 20 7th St.

A new vestibule entrance is included in the work. New wall and center shelving and new display equipment for produce, bakery and frozen food items also have been installed.

Souvenir gifts will be distributed next week as part of an observance planned in conjunction with the remodeling.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Mrs. Naomi Parsons Bailey, who passed away 10 years ago today, April 5th:

Into a land that's free from pain, A land that knows no night.
And though our hearts are empty still Because our loss was great;
I know she would not have you mourn, She's just inside the gate.
For there the Master welcomed her To that new world divine;
With all its' beauties to behold, It's wonders so sublime.

IN loving memory of Deveda Baker who passed away April 6, 1930 and John Baker who passed away April 6, 1957. The Family.

Junior Editors Quiz on CAVE MEN

QUESTION: How did the cave men write on walls?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: They used a number of different things. Some of the men carved on the walls of the caves, using sharp tools or rocks. Others scooped up clay from the ground and modeled figures. Then they stuck the figures to the wall, where they hardened. Those who wanted to draw found materials which they ground up, probably with a rock, and mixed with sap from trees. An example of this is ochre, a yellow or brown colored clay. The primitive artist ground up the ochre until it was a powder. Then he mixed it with some very sticky sap and painted with it. What we know about the cave dwellers comes largely from the drawings, from tools they used and left in the caves and, of course, from bones left of the men themselves. They were not farmers and did not keep flocks. They spent most of their food-gathering time hunting. Some of the more artistic among them drew the animals they hunted. These pictures were very life-like. Some pictures show animals that are now extinct. Others show running deer and other animals so filled with action that there is no doubt the artists had seen and hunted them.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Imagine you are a cave artist. Prop a piece of cardboard straight up against the wall. Then, using only the materials you have at hand—no pencils or crayons are allowed—try to draw some of the animals you see every day. You will find it a good idea to keep the lines simple because the material you find will not be easy to work with. You might be surprised at how realistic your sketches appear.

Rail Worker Hurt In Fall

Joe DeAngelo, 46, of 1403 Commerce St., Wellsville, employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad, suffered injuries of the left wrist and back suffered in a fall from a boxcar. He was treated at 9:30 p. m.

Cecil Short, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Short, 1024 St. George St., was treated for two lacerations of the right wrist received when his hand broke through a storm door.
